Fall Treatment of Meadows.

The grass crop is the most important interest of agriculture. As represented by figures in census reports and estimates of crops, its real value is far from being properly appreciated. While the value of the hay cut and carried into barns each year in the United States amounts to over $400,000,000, taking a price of $15 a ton only as the basis, a larger amount of grass than that is consumed as pasturage. Thus the value of our grass product would exceed that of the corn crop or any other single product of agriculture. Grass, therefore, is "King." Nevertheless, there is no crop so carelessly managed. A certain amount of care is taken to gather and protect the hay each year, but as soon as that is saved the meadows are neglected, as if their condition was an element not to be considered in the calculations for a future supply. Thus when a more than usually hard Winter or a very dry Spring occurs, the grass crop falls short, and inconvenience and loss, if not distress, are the consequence. It is the boast of the enthusiastic farmer that he may be independent of the seasons. However near to, or distant from, the truth he may be as to grain crops, he is near the truth as to grass. This may be made as nearly a certain crop as we may call any sublunary thing certain. Just now is a critical time with meadows, and where do we see any especial pains taken to carry them over it safely? Certainly in but few instances; but in them, constant success shows that the careful farmer may in fact, so far as this crop is concerned, feel little anxiety as to what weather he may experience. The hay having been harvested, the plant, whether clover or grass, is checked very seriously by the cutting. No time can be better chosen to kill a plant than to cut it when in full flower. Just at this time, too, the fervid heats of our Summer's sun bear with injurious effect upon the wounded plants, and a large portion of them die out and disappear. We have no sod. A true sod, in which the plants grow so thickly that no intervening space or soil is to be seen, is a thing unknown with us. Even beneath the clouded, weeping skies of Britain, the production of such a sod is a matter of time and the greatest care. An English proverb has it that it takes 300 years to make a sod. It is a thing not indigenous here. The course we take is destructive to all our hopes of one. We cut the grass, and when in spite of drouth and heat, a weak growth once more appears, we turn in our stock and pasture it to the roots again. Then the frosts of winter come, by which it is torn out by the roots, and perishes for want of protection.—The soil uncovered to fierce winds is denuded of every particle of dead matter that would rot and fertilize a new growth, and when Spring comes again, the sickly growth is pastured until the last moment, when it is allowed togrow to be mown once more. It is simply marvelous that on half our farms a hay crop can be gathered. That our average hay is at least one ton per acre, is a standing proof that our soil is not impoverished, as we are made to believe. It may be that our proverty is such that this state of things must continue. But if "the destruction of the poor is their poverty," it would seem that this condition should be remedied as soon as possible. The evil is radical. It consists in making the wrong crop our standard one, our "pivotal" crop. This should be grass, and not corn, and to bring this about, we must first learn how greatly we depend on our grass; that without it, it is in vain we try to increase our flocks and herds, and preserve our fields in fruitfulness. Then we may take the simplest means to preserve our meadows from deterioration. When the crop is removed, we must protect them from the sun's heat and the drouth by a dressing of manure, or we must stimulate them into active growth by dressings of active fertilizers, so that they will soon be self-protecting. Then, if pastured at all, it must be with judgment and moderation, and the Winter's snows must fall upon a thick coat of faded grass which will shelter the roots, and dying down, furnish food for a new growth. If we consider that the growth of root bears a proportion to the size of the plant, we shall aim to keep a vigorous growth above ground by which the root may draw what it needs from the abundant sources of the atmosphere. In short, we must give much more consideration to the condition of our meadows if we would keep up, not to speak of increasing, the fertility of our farms.

Brown's Wooden Wedding.

From the Boston Traveler.

Brown, a young insurance friend of ours, who lives in Cambridge, had the fifth anniversary of his wedding occur about a week ago, and he determined to celebrate his wooden wedding by a surprise party. Brown came in yesterday and told us how they succeeded. They commenced by sending a servant round with a team to take Brown and his wife out to ride at about seven. Then they began to come with presents and materials for supper. There was a little party of five came first, all laden—hands full. They all got nicely inside the garden gate, which shuts with a spring, when Brown's big mastiff, who is left unchained in his master's absence, came round the corner and surprised them. One woman stepped on her dress, and in her fall so demoralized a fragile black-walnut book-case she carried that it was afterwards done up in a bundle and presented as kindling wood. Another fellow got safely out of the yard, all but part of his pants, while old Smithers, who weighs 220 pounds, plunged wildly, with the eight-gallon pail of ice-cream he carried, through Brown's glass hot-house in the corner of the yard, and surprised some $20 worth of exotics. Finally they fixed things up and got into the house, and as it was about time for Brown's return, they commenced laying the supper table. They got down a tea set of rare china that a friend of Brown's in the trade had loaned him a week before, and broke two pieces, so that Brown has since been obliged to mortgage his hen-house and buy the set; and the comments of Mrs. Brown when she saw the condition of of the carpet, were sarcastic in the extreme. Finally, as a crowning touch, they tried to hang out Chinese lanterns with the word "Welcome" on them, on the porch over the front door. They succeeded in hanging two lanterns, and when they had saved the house from the fiery fiend there wasn't enough porch left to pay for the trouble of trying to hang out any more. Then they sat down and waited for Brown and his wife to come home. We draw a veil over the scene that followed their return. Some scenes are too joyous to be described in cold, cold words.

A Fickle Maid.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican tells the woes of a rich old bachelor—not so very old, either—in Amherst, who had wooed and, as he supposed, won, a fair damsel of the place. The bridal day was to have been on Thursday. So much confidence did the would-be bridegroom place in his inamorata that he gave her $500 for the purchase of her trosseau. The girl took the money and went to the city, but not a cent did the frugal maid expend. She bought some $600 worth of feminine attire, and had it charged to her expectant lord and master. The happy day came, but no sound of marriage bells was heard. The day before the fickle fair had left ostensibly for the south, but really for the 'Hub,' whither a festive student lover, who had long secretly courted her, followed. The disappointed cœlebs thinks hymen's bonds very uncertain property, and now prefers Uncle Sam's securities."

A LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL INFORMATION.

THE NEW

American Cyclopædia.

Complete in 16 Volumes.

This important work presents a panoramic view of all human knowledge, as it exists at the present moment. It embraces and popularizes every subject that can be thought of, and contains an inexhaustible fund of accurate and practical information. No topic, in brief, is omitted, upon which information can be desired. The work is a library in itself; it is a complete universal instructor, and opens to the student and general reader the whole field of knowledge.

It should be owned by every intelligent family in the country.

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopædia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopædia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopædia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.

CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopædia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.

JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

FOR SALE.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE—

The Prospect Hill Farm.

The subscriber being desirous of retiring from active life as a cultivator of the soil, would offer for sale his farm on which he now resides, situated in the City of Kingston, about ten minutes' walk from the Post Office, containing forty five acres of choice land. This place is beautifully situated, presenting the finest view of the mountains and surrounding country in the city. On this farm there are a large number of sites for buildings, commanding magnificent views that cover a large scope of the surrounding country. This property, lying as it does in close proximity to the central part of the city, must necessarily soon be in strong demand for the erection of private residences. There can be found no better site for a Hotel to accommodate summer boarders than on this property. Title indisputable. Terms accommodating.

Fall Treatment of Meadows.

The grass crop is the most important interest of agriculture. As represented by figures in census reports and estimates of crops, its real value is far from being properly appreciated. While the value of the hay cut and carried into barns each year in the United States amounts to over $400,000,000, taking a price of $15 a ton only as the basis, a larger amount of grass than that is consumed as pasturage. Thus the value of our grass product would exceed that of the corn crop or any other single product of agriculture. Grass, therefore, is "King." Nevertheless, there is no crop so carelessly managed. A certain amount of care is taken to gather and protect the hay each year, but as soon as that is saved the meadows are neglected, as if their condition was an element not to be considered in the calculations for a future supply. Thus when a more than usually hard Winter or a very dry Spring occurs, the grass crop falls short, and inconvenience and loss, if not distress, are the consequence. It is the boast of the enthusiastic farmer that he may be independent of the seasons. However near to, or distant from, the truth he may be as to grain crops, he is near the truth as to grass. This may be made as nearly a certain crop as we may call any sublunary thing certain. Just now is a critical time with meadows, and where do we see any especial pains taken to carry them over it safely? Certainly in but few instances; but in them, constant success shows that the careful farmer may in fact, so far as this crop is concerned, feel little anxiety as to what weather he may experience. The hay having been harvested, the plant, whether clover or grass, is checked very seriously by the cutting. No time can be better chosen to kill a plant than to cut it when in full flower. Just at this time, too, the fervid heats of our Summer's sun bear with injurious effect upon the wounded plants, and a large portion of them die out and disappear. We have no sod. A true sod, in which the plants grow so thickly that no intervening space or soil is to be seen, is a thing unknown with us. Even beneath the clouded, weeping skies of Britain, the production of such a sod is a matter of time and the greatest care. An English proverb has it that it takes 300 years to make a sod. It is a thing not indigenous here. The course we take is destructive to all our hopes of one. We cut the grass, and when in spite of drouth and heat, a weak growth once more appears, we turn in our stock and pasture it to the roots again. Then the frosts of winter come, by which it is torn out by the roots, and perishes for want of protection.—The soil uncovered to fierce winds is denuded of every particle of dead matter that would rot and fertilize a new growth, and when Spring comes again, the sickly growth is pastured until the last moment, when it is allowed togrow to be mown once more. It is simply marvelous that on half our farms a hay crop can be gathered. That our average hay is at least one ton per acre, is a standing proof that our soil is not impoverished, as we are made to believe. It may be that our proverty is such that this state of things must continue. But if "the destruction of the poor is their poverty," it would seem that this condition should be remedied as soon as possible. The evil is radical. It consists in making the wrong crop our standard one, our "pivotal" crop. This should be grass, and not corn, and to bring this about, we must first learn how greatly we depend on our grass; tha without it, it is in vain we try to increase our flocks and herds, and preserve our fields in fruitfulness. Then we may take the simplest means to preserve our meadows from deterioration. When the crop is removed, we must protect them from the sun's heat and the drouth by a dressing of manure, or we must stimulate them into active growth by dressings of active fertilizers, so that they will soon be self-protecting. Then, if pastured at all, it must be with judgment and moderation, and the Winter's snows must fall upon a thick coat of faded grass which will shelter the roots, and dying down, furnish food for a new growth. If we consider that the growth of root bears a proportion to the size of the plant, we shall aim to keep a vigorous growth above ground by which the root may draw what it needs from the abundant sources of the atmosphere. In short, we must give much more consideration to the condition of our meadows if we would keep up, not to speak of increasing, the fertility of our farms.

Brown's Wooden Wedding.

From the Boston Traveler.

Brown, a young insurance friend of ours, who lives in Cambridge, had the fifth anniversary of his wedding occur about a week ago, and he determined to celebrate his wooden wedding by a surprise party. Brown came in yesterday and told us how they succeeded. They commenced by sending a servant round with a team to take Brown and his wife out to ride at about seven. Then they began to come with presents and materials for supper. There was a little party of five came first, all laden—hands full. They all got nicely inside the garden gate, which shuts with a spring, when Brown's big mastiff, who is left unchained in his master's absence, came round the corner and surprised them. One woman stepped on her dress, and in her fall so demoralized a fragile black-walnut book-case she carried that it was afterwards done up in a bundle and presented as kindling wood. Another fellow got safely out of the yard, all but part of his pants, while old Smithers, who weighs 220 pounds, plunged wildly, with the eight-gallon pail of ice-cream he carried, through Brown's glass hot-house in the corner of the yard, and surprised some $20 worth of exotics. Finally they fixed things up and got into the house, and as it was about time for Brown's return, they commenced laying the supper table. They got down a tea set of rare china that a friend of Brown's in the trade had loaned him a week before, and broke two pieces, so that Brown has since been obliged to mortgage his hen-house and buy the set; and the comments of Mrs. Brown when she saw the condition of of the carpet, were sarcastic in the extreme. Finally, as a crowning touch, they tried to hang out Chinese lanterns with the word "Welcome" on them, on the porch over the front door. They succeeded in hanging two lanterns, and when they had saved the house from the fiery fiend there wasn't enough porch left to pay for the trouble of trying to hang out any more. Then they sat down and waited for Brown and his wife to come home. We draw a veil over the scene that followed their return. Some scenes are too joyous to be described in cold, cold words.

A Fickle Maid.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican tells the woes of a rich old bachelor—not so very old, either—in Amherst, who had wooed and, as he supposed, won, a fair damsel of the place. The bridal day was to have been on Thursday. So much confidence did the would-be bridegroom place in his inamorata that he gave her $500 for the purchase of her trousseau. The girl took the money and went to the city, but not a cent did the frugal maid expend. She bought some $600 worth of feminine attire, and had it charged to her expectant lord and master. The happy day came, but no sound of marriage bells was heard. The day before the fickle fair had left ostensibly for the south, but really for the 'Hub,' whither a festive student lover, who had long secretly courted her, followed. The disappointed cœlebs thinks hymen's bonds very uncertain property, and now prefers Uncle Sam's securities."

A LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL INFORMATION.

THE NEW

American Cyclopædia.

Complete in 16 Volumes.

This important work presents a panoramic view of all human knowledge, as it exists at the present moment. It embraces and popularizes every subject that can be thought of, and contains an inexhaustible fund of accurate and practical information. No topic, in brief, is omitted, upon which information can be desired. The work is a library in itself; it is a complete universal instructor, and opens to the student and general reader the whole field of knowledge.

It should be owned by every intelligent family in the country.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopædia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopædia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopædia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.

CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopædia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.

JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopædia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

"North Shore, S. I., N. Y., Oct. 19, 1869.

Appletons' Cyclopædia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869.

DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopædia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value.

FOR SALE.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE—

The Prospect Hill Farm.

The subscriber being desirous of retiring from active life as a cultivator of the soil, would offer for sale his farm on which he now resides, situated in the City of Kingston, about ten minutes' walk from the Post Office, containing forty five acres of choice land. This place is beautifully situated, presenting the finest view of the mountains and surrounding country in the city. On this farm there are a large number of sites for buildings, commanding magnificent views that cover a large scope of the surrounding country. This property, lying as it does in close proximity to the central part of the city, must necessarily soon be in strong demand for the erection of private residences. There can be found no better site for a Hotel to accommodate summer boarders than on this property. Title indisputable. Terms accommodating.

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Saturday Morning, August 16.

Physicians and the mode of putting up their prescriptions form themes of practical moment to saint and sinner alike. Fortunate indeed are the favored ones who act through long and useful lives on Shakspeare's injunction to "throw physic to the dogs." Others must be more or less concerned as to the effect of drugs, and the relative skill of their dispensers. When the day comes that physicians will only be licensed to practice upon actual examination in every known mode of treatment, less cause will be found to charge any of them with prejudiced opinions.

In the watering resort correspondence of the day reference is from time to time made of children's balls, and childhood forwardness generally. The seed thus planted brings fruit in bad health, an idle, frivolous life, and a disrespect for seniority and the usual rules necessary to life's discipline. The fault for all this primarily lies with the parents, more especially mothers. The latter are also directly responsible for encouraging a habit of rich dressing among juveniles, thus keeping the latter to a great extent from natural, wholesome exercise. Precocity in children wants much restraining in this "fast age."

Now that the Sing Sing prison is not to located elsewhere, for this year at least, wouldn't it be well, in view of the crowded condition of our State prisons in this era of much crime, to devise some practical means of relief from overcrowding those structures? A well known magazine writer, Col. Nordhoff we believe, contributed to a late number of Scribner's Monthly his views on this subject, suggesting penal banishment for terms of sentence to far-off Alaska, under United States military supervision. Instead of thus sending all criminals, the experiment might be tried with a surplus of the worst cases; by which means prison overcrowding could be easily regulated.

Projected Improvements.

The wondrously wise and witty World tells us that "Orville Grant, the President's brother, has gone into the wood-pavement business. If the whole family will lay their heads together the enterprise can be made a success." We take that for Grant-ed; and now if the speechless chief editor of a certain cosmopolitan journal could be induced to sacrifice himself for the good of the city whose destitution and dirt he so deeply deplores, there might be a polished Marble sidewalk adjacent to that wooden pavement.

The Saint's Rest.

Poor Richard Baxter, in spite of his dyspepsia, gave the world a detailed and graphic account of Heaven and the way to get there.—And inasmuch as he located the Promised Land many a league beyond this darksome vale of tears, he had no trouble in looking up a permanent site in this world. Brigham Young is more materialistic. Golden harps and golden streets are well enough in poetry, while to inspire a lagging spiritual procession there is nothing better; but Brigham has a keen eye to corner lots, crops and stocks.—Utah answered all the conditions required by him as a lengthened antepost to the New Jerusalem, until clouds of heretical locusts from the unbelieving and monogamous states began to swarm around him. Railroads are too many and too long. Legislation about Mormonism is becoming too manifold and too applicable. His wives are imbibing in the same noxious draught both information and discontent. Ann Eliza has sued for a divorce. The case is complicated. If she is not Brigham's wife according to the laws of the United States, she needs no divorce. If she is, by her own free will she became so, and by her own confession Young has fulfilled the terms of the contract. Anyway, Brigham must move.—Where will he go? It is hard to tell. The commission he sent out to find a better Canaan has returned only to report a failure. Mormonism has quarreled with the times and must go under. Our advice to its leader is that he commune, if possible, with the spirit of Mohammed, and together they may arrange for a combination of their "institutions" somewhere in space. Otherwise Salt Lake City dies with Constantinople, and the almond-eyed houris of the East perish dramatically in the arms of the skinny wives of the West. That, too, would be a hard death for the houris.

That "Stereotyped Sneer."

Our good friend, the Ellenville Journal, is moved to remark that "the stereotyped sneer at 'Christian statesmen,' which seems to be the readiest if not the most effective weapon employed in political discussion by a certain class of papers, has found its way into the columns of the Rondout Freeman." We hardly know whether to regard so much of the above quotation as follows the last comma in the light of a compliment or not. If the Journal intends to express surprise that anything having the least likeness to a "sneer" of the sort described should have found its way into The Freeman, we are duly thankful for its ante-factum faith in our not being likely to say wrong things. But if, on the contrary, the Journal means to rank us with "a certain class of papers" of which "sneering" allusions may be predicated in advance, why, then to be sure, we have no occasion to be grateful. We do not now remember in what connection the objectionable sneer was uttered, although it must have concerned in some way the politico-financial situation. The gist of the matter will rattle in a filbert shell. The only man who has been eminently termed a Christian statesman is Schuyler Colfax. That excellent Sunday school speaker became fatally mixed up in the Credit Mobilier frauds. Neither of the several explanations of his unhappy position, offered by him or his friends, has had the ring of truth about it. Every one has either been contradicted or quietly abandoned. Mr. Colfax, politically speaking, is a buried man. Oakes Ames under the sod is scarcely more so. We are not glad of this fact. We are heartily sorry for it, as for every lapse from virtue or reputation by any man in whom we once believed. Our fashion is to speak of them, however, with candor and fairness. We beg nobody's permission to condemn them and we copy no "stereotyped sneer" at them. Our sympathies with the Christian religion as a political and social force are full and perfect, but we care as little for the orthodox whitewash that covers a conservative humbug as we do for the rant that announces a new dispensation.

The Railway Laocoon.

There is a well known group of statuary in the Vatican at Rome entitled the Laocoon. It is stated by Pliny to have been the work of sculptors from Rhodes, and represents a father and two sons struggling vainly against being crushed to death by the coils of serpents. Although suffering the agonies of strangulation, the set teeth and writhing muscles indicate how desperately they protest and how disgusting they feel their punishment to be. The sons of Antenor perish at last, however, for the patriotic act of striking a spear into the side of the wooden horse with which the cunning Greeks were attempting to gain a bloodless entrance to the city of Troy. Without intending it those men of the skillful chisel created a marble prophecy of the condition of the United States to-day within the coils of the railroad anacondas. The far-stretching folds of these gigantic monopolies are fast enclosing every private interest in the country. It is difficult if not impossible to form an organization to resist their ravenous demands. The moment a movement is made looking toward this end men shrink away from connecting themselves with it, because of the damage these corporations can do to private business. The Central Pacific Railroad, according to Gov. Booth, of California, makes discriminating rates in favor of its friends and tools and inimical to its enemies. The commercial marine of the nation is largely at their mercy. Merchants along or near the great trunk lines dare not disregard the orders of the railway magnates, however much they may inwardly curse and revile them. The yoke of a contemptible servitude is upon their necks and the question of obedience to railroad authority is at once a question of existence. This is simple enough to comprehend. Here is a man whose property is entirely contained within the area of a town lying on one of the Vanderbilt roads, for instance. That road is his way to market, it can affect the price of his produce to be shipped, it can affect the desirableness of his real estate by manipulating its trains for that object; in a word he is bound hand and foot with railroad iron. The power of a great corporation is still more clearly perceptible in this direction in case of western villages, cities and towns. Those places are both the creatures of the railways and their vassals. Rates of transportation are changed or depots moved to their disadvantage at any time. Secret orders to the employees not to patronize certain parties and to buy of others are no uncommon things. Politically what used to be said of New Jersey is true of larger states, i. e. that it was "a branch of the Camden and Amboy Railroad." Railroad subsidy legislation is put through to the help of popular (?) votes from men who get their daily bread out of land mortgaged to railroad corporations. Not less than two hundred and twenty millions of acres of public land have been given away by Congress to these companies in the United States; and bills are now pending proposing a grant of nearly two hundred millions more. The Southern States, which are so pressingly in need of multiplied railroad facilities now that they are rising from the low level of a dead slave system, have been robbed by bogus corporations, to which gifts of land and money have been made; while the roads themselves have never been built. Gov. Booth complains that the Pacific Railway can defy the state of California to collect its taxes. This is partially because the state is bonded for the road, but in our own state of New York experience has shown that to collect taxes of the Erie or the Central has been no easy matter if the officials were inclined to be pugnacious. Whether the compulsory cession of all railroad property to the general government, to be operated and owned by it, as we suggested yesterday as to the telegraphic lines, would be wise, may not be perfectly clear.—But as a basis for some legal and daring action, the popular war against these selfish monopolies should deepen and widen. If apathy and submission are to rule the hour the fate of the priest of Neptune will be ours, and the iron snakes will stuff their jaws with the crushed carcasses of forty million fools.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Gen. Schenck, our Minister to England, is credited with saying that London has an atmosphere but no climate.

—Brooklyn advices report a pending raid by the new Police Board upon the faro and policy dealers of that city.

—The New York Tribune utters a sensible growl against a Broadway calcium light near a place of amusement, alleging that it fairly blinds people's eyes a block off each way from it, and causes much profanity on the part of many of them.

—Probably the most general political attention, such little as there is, centres upon Massachusetts, in regard to whether it will swallow or bolt Butler. Curiosity has doubtless more to do with outside interest than any special feeling for the old Bay State.

—Of the three hundred inspectors on the New York Custom House pay roll it is affirmed a very large number have "a good, soft thing of it;" some owning brown stone houses, and others keeping fast horses. Hence the concern among them to learn who of their number are marked at Washington for official beheading, as commonly reported.

—Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs, father of the well-known Brooklyn pastor of that name, has died at Braintree, Mass., at an advanced age, after a continued pastorate there of sixty-two years—the anniversary of which was observed one month ago. The venerable deceased took his charge on an original salary of $800 annually, which he never after would allow to be increased. A very remarkable incident in his life.

—The immense personal wealth of Queen Victoria, before alluded to in this column of The Freeman, came originally from her late husband's share in a real estate combination, whereby a few prominent individuals—Prince Albert one of them—over twenty years ago bought up a large plot of poorly covered London land, which is now densely occupied by elegant mansions. Prince Albert's share in this transaction descended to the Queen entire—the Prince of Wales, at his father's death, being under the latter's ban by reason of personal misconduct.

—Perhaps the most noted southern summer resort is the White Sulphur Springs of Virginia. The war last past had made much change in its patrons. Col. Peyton, the proprietor of a principal hotel, sums up the old custom by a story, plaintive enough, of one southern family, in these words: They came to the Springs with as many as seventeen servants and thirty horses, with children and friends, and spent the summer in grandest of style and gayest of society. To-day the father lies in a soldier's grave; estate is gone; widow is cultivating a few acres of corn to keep body and soul together; and the son is a street car conductor in the city of Baltimore. The present patrons are chiefly young married couples who come here for a few days' honeymoon; invalids for the refreshing effects of the baths and water; some for the charms of dancing and society, others for its delicious mountain air and scenery.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—The Carlists have captured Berga.

—Two men have been arrested for stealing jewelry worth $20,000 in St. Louis.

—The Mississippi Republican State Convention meets at Jackson on the 27th inst.

—Gov. Straw of New Hampshire has invited the President to visit Portsmouth and the Isles of Shoals.

—The Postmaster at Litchfield, Montgomery county, Illinois, reports that his office has been robbed of between $300 and $500.

—The Navy Department asserts that so far as the advices there are concerned, the sickness on board the Canandaigua is Isthmus fever, and not genuine yellow fever.

—Col. Cobb, member of Congress from Wyandotte District, Kan., has sued R. B. Taylor of the Wyandotte Gazette for defamation of character, claiming $10,000 damages.

—Mr. N. G. Swayne, a son of Judge Swayne of the Supreme Court, having resigned his clerkship in the Department of Justice, this and two other vacancies will be filled by competitive examination.

—The new ship Sterling, Capt. Baker, built by E. R. Sewall, reported arrived at Liverpool, August 9, made the passage from Bath, Me., to St. Stephen, N. B., in twenty-four hours, and thence to Liverpool in seventeen days.

—C. J. Anderson, alias C. J. Smith, was arrested in Evansville, Ind., Thursday night, on a charge of having committed a heavy forgery in Memphis, Tenn., a few weeks ago. He was taken South.

—Wednesday night, Barney Gallinger, employed in a tannery at Milford, N. H., jumped from a window in his boarding-house to the sidewalk, breaking his neck. The deceased had been on a spree.

—Recorder Hackett has sentenced a "roper in" of a gambling house to two years in the State Prison and a fine of $1,000, which, of course, he will have to work out, which will make his term about five or six years in all.

—A report says the underwriters are soon to increase largely the rates of insurance throughout Boston, because of the hesitancy of the city authorities in increasing the efficiency of the fire department.

—Dispatches from Austin, Texas, state that Gov. Davis, on his return to that city from the North, reported that he had received offers of 70 cents on the dollar for $900,000 of State bonds which he took with him to negotiate, but declined to part with them for less than 85. The State officials here decided not to offer the bonds again until a better condition of affairs exists in the money market. Gov. Davis's friends express the greatest confidence of his renomination at Dallas next week.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—Morning for labor, evening for repose.

—The Delaware River is 2,000 feet above the sea-level.

—Wes. Allen, the well-known state prison scoundrel, is reported to be seriously ill.

—M. Gounod has finished a new opera named "Joan of Arc." It will be performed in Paris this fall.

—Mrs. Josephine Mansfield is living in Paris and appears in great splendor at the Bois de Boulogne.

—A Saratoga lady has so many diamonds that a special policeman is employed to guard her.

—Back-pay grabbers returning from Europe are astonished that the noise hasn't blown over.

—A rich young fellow of seventeen has been arrested at Horseheads, N. Y., for dealing in counterfeit money by the sawdust game.

—An ox recently killed by lightning in Iowa, was afterwards discovered to have every bone in its body broken in many pieces.

—Three hundred thousand cattle, four hundred thousand sheep and five hundred thousand hogs are annually handled at the West Albany cattle yards.

—The trotting mares Goldsmith Maid and Lucy make their journeys in their own private stable car, which is elegantly and expensively fitted up.

—Hay sells at forty dollars per ton at Troy; in New York city at eighteen dollars. Consumers are bothering their brains in deciphering the financial riddle.

—Barnum spent $10,000 for advertising in St. Louis (purchasing a whole page of the newspapers), and had receipts amounting to $60,000.

—William Craft, whom Theodore Parker married and presented with a bible and pistol in the old fugitive slave and underground railroad days, is working for the education of the colored people in Georgia.

—"Dr." Paul Davis, under arrest charged with abortion in Rochester, promises to make it hot for some of his patrons if they do not come forward as his bail, and the papers promise to publish the names of all offering as bail.

—The victory of the Sioux over the Pawnees, though a bloody one, was nothing to boast of. The Sioux numbered one thousand warriors, while the Pawnees had but one hundred and fifty men, and most of the slain were women and children. The Sioux never fight willingly at a disadvantage.

—Newport, with a population of 13,000, possesses real estate valued at $17,654,600 and personal property valued at $9,832,900; total, $27,487,500, or more than $2,000 to each inhabitant, and yet no business seems to be done there except that of keeping boarding houses.

—The Pall Mall Gazette criticizes Miss Kate Field's "Haphazard" with contempt. Her representations of English life and institutions are absurd; her jokes and puns are feeble or miserable; her opinions rabid; and her style ridiculous.

—The average number of trains passing over the Central Railroad daily is about 98—or one every fifteen minutes! It is believed that, upon the completion of the new tracks, at least three times that number will pass daily, or one every five minutes.

—The democracy of Maine have unquestionably secured for a standard-bearer the strongest man in the party, one who commands the respect of all by his unblemished reputation. Yet, with this great point gained at the outset, the result is easily predicted—an overwhelming defeat for Joseph Titcomb at the polls.—[Boston Journal.

—Gen. Robert Lowry, of Mississippi, declines to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. The leading party paper in the State believes that he could have been the choice of the party for its standard bearer; but as the Republicans intend to carry the State again, perhaps it is better for Mr. Lowry to keep out of the fight.

—The Brooklyn Eagle says that Hon. Daniel Pratt announces that he will support General Butler for Governor of Massachusetts if Butler will "go in" for him "for the next Presidency." It cannot be denied that Hon. Daniel Pratt is a fluent speaker. The "talked to death" cards make no more impression upon him than water on the back of a goose.

—The Lake Champlain serpent must take a back seat. It has a rival. That rival is a Southern one, of an amiable temper. A gentleman, while lately employed in gathering the pleasant raspberry, became fatigued and sat himself down upon what he supposed was a log. To his dismay he immediately began moving down hill, and presently found that he was seated upon the back of an immense snake sixty feet long and corpulent in proportion. He arose directly and gracefully retired.

—Miss Nettie C. Stewart applied for a license to practice law during a recent session of the court in Gadsdens, Ala., but her examiner found her incompetent. Then there was a pretty row. She got wrathy and said it was no more than she expected, and called the court and bar a band of robbers. The judge told the sheriff to put her out of the room for contempt, but she dared him to do it, at the risk of his eyes. The court then peremptorily ordered her to keep quiet or she would have to go to jail, and she subsided.

—The Boston Herald asserts that an infant only five days old died from fright in Newtonville, Mass., on Friday last, under the following circumstances: "On that evening a very heavy thunder-storm prevailed in this vicinity, and at each report of the thunder the babe jumped spasmodically, and gave every evidence of thorough fright possible in so young and infant. At last a terrific clap came, the child's limbs twitched convulsively, and it died instantly. The lightning struck a house only a few rods distant, but it is not thought that the electricity had any effect upon the child, for it was not felt by any others.

—The wicked boys of Chicago are fellows of infinite resources, as shown by the case of Elijah Harris, arrested for highway robbery and temporarily lodged in jail for the want of bail in the sum of one thousand dollars, which was more money than he had about him, though he was by no means penniless. This condition, however, characterized another wicked boy of about Elijah's size, who was put in the cell with him preparatory to being taken to a place to "work out" a five dollar fine. So the two little rascals exchanged clothes, and Elijah went off to the workhouse next morning, paid the five dollar fine and escaped, whereupon the other boy disclosed the trick, and demanded his freedom, offering to pay his fine with the money which Elijah had considerately left for that purpose.

TELEGRAPH.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN.

FOREIGN.

GERMANY.

A Hit at the New York World.

BERLIN, August 15.—The North German Gazette stigmatizes as disgusting the invention of the report in American papers of an interview with Prince Bismarck in which the Prince is made to say that he would extirpate the idea of God and substitute that of the State. It declares that Bismarck never used such language or advocated such sentiments and believes the falsehood originated in the machinations of the Jesuits.

SPAIN.

Insurgents Levying Contributions.

MADRID, August 14.—One thousand insurgent refugees from Valencia have landed on the coast of Alicante and are levying contributions on rich towns.

INSURGENT VESSELS FIRED UPON.

MADRID, August 15.—Five British, three Italian and an American man-of-war were laying in Escombrera bay on Thursday. Three insurgent vessels arrived outside, when Fort Galeras fired on them. A few shots were exchanged without apparent effect.

Cartagena is preparing for a long struggle. All males above sixteen years of age have been enrolled. The streets are almost deserted and the shops are closed.

The insurgents are issuing paper money.

It is believed that the iron-clads Salamanca and Vittoria will be held by the Germans until an organized government exists to which they can be returned.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Honoring the Dead Emperor.

LONDON, August 15.—Six hundred French Imperialists met at Chiselhurst to-day and celebrated the fete day of the late Emperor. Prince Louis Napoleon made a speech, in the course of which he said: "Planting myself as an exile near the tomb of the Emperor I represent his teachings, which may be summarized in the motto, 'Govern for the people by the people.'" The Prince was loudly cheered and the meeting was most enthusiastic.

AWARDING VIENNA PRIZES.

LONDON, August 15.—A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that the prizes will be awarded by the Commissioners on Tuesday next. Nine grand diplomas of honor, the highest prizes given, have been awarded to Americans, namely: The first to the United States government for the display of cotton and products; the second to the National Bureau of education; the third to the state of Massachusetts; the fourth to the city of Boston; the fifth to the Smithsonian Institute, Washington—these four for excellence in methods and progress of education and schools; the sixth to Walter Abbot Wood of Hoosic Falls, N. Y., for agricultural machinery, the seventh to Wm. Sellers & Co., Philadelphia, for progress in iron manufactures; the eighth to Samuel S. White for dentistry; the ninth to George H. Corlies, of New York, for machinery. No diplomas have been awarded to sewing machines as there is too much competition, but all will have medals of merit and progress awarded them.

In the machinery department, where Americans make the most display, medals will be given to some fifty exhibitors, averaging about one in three. The discussion of the merits of articles continues and the decision as to awards will be concluded on Monday.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

More Indian Difficulties.

WASHINGTON, August 15.—A letter from Fort Concho, Texas, July 30th, reports a band of thirty Indians from Fort Stanton, New Mexico, reservation with passes to hunt on the staked plains forty days, embraced the opportunity to steal 143 horses and 14 mules and killed a herder at Pecos River, causing 9,000 head of cattle to be turned loose.

Additional particulars have been received at the War Department from Lieut. J. N. Wheelan, commanding Camp Palmer, Wyoming Territory, in regard to the Indian raid on settlers on the Popagie on the 23d of July, and the murder of Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Richards. These two ladies lived near the site of the old Camp Brown and were outraged by the Indians first and then killed. After robbing the house of all valuables the Indians drove off the stock. They took the opportunity to make the attack when most of the men of the settlement were absent in the mountains, and they did not attempt to interfere with the few men left in the valley behind. Mrs. Richards was killed outright, but Mrs. Hall lived many hours, though insensible. Lieut. Wheelan took the trail and vigorously pursued the Indians, marching sixty-five miles the first twenty-four hours. After another march of thirty-five miles a terrific hail storm took place, entirely obliterating the trail. The Indians, well knowing they would be pursued, scattered in all directions and the pursuit had to be abandoned. The Indians were Sioux from the vicinity of Fort Fetterman.

In forwarding this letter Gen. Sheridan again calls attention to his endorsement of August. 8th on the letter of Lieut. Col. Brackett, in which he says, "However, if the Government will let us punish the Indians after they reach home with the troops stationed at Fetterman and Laramine I think we can do it by taking advantage of some favorable opportunity,"

THE RUMORED NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE FRAUDS.

The Treasury Department recently sent to New York Mr. Vanderbilt of that department to examine into the report of a couple of cases of alleged fraud in importing in 1867. The names of several Custom House officers now in office having been mentioned in that connection the chief object of his visit was to ascertain whether they were implicated in the fraud or improper transactions. Mr. Vanderbilt returned to Washington to-day and reports to the Secretary that there was nothing whatever to implicate these officers in wrong-doing. This was the only matter which occupied his attention while in New York. His visit had no connection whatever with the removal of anybody, nor had any orders been previously issued for the purpose or for examining into the conduct of the officers and employees connected with any branch of the Custom House.

THE COTTON CROP.

The returns of the Agricultural Department for the 1st of August indicate a general and somewhat marked improvement in the condition and promise of the cotton crop since the 1st of July.

MICHIGAN.

Suicide of Hon. William Stoddard.

DETROIT, August 15.—A special dispatch announces the death of Hon. Wm. Stoddard, at Litchfield, in this State. He was delirious at the time of the fatal act.

OHIO.

A Diabolical Plot.

MANSFIELD, O., August 15.—Some time ago W. H. Dobbs, a farmer, attempted to outrage a little girl named Barnard. He failed in the attempt and was arrested. A suit is now pending in court against him. In order to prevent the attendance of the girl and her father as witnesses, Dobbs employed two ruffians, Lightfoot and Winfield, to blow up Barnard's house. Winfield betrayed the others in time to prevent the execution of the scheme, which was to have taken place on Wednesday night. Dobbs and Lightfoot were arrested, and in the latter's possession was a quantity of powder and fuse.

THE PRESIDENT IN MAINE.

He and His Party Visit Mount Desert.

ROCKLAND, Me., August 15.—President Grant and suite, accompanied by Gov. Perham and Messrs. Hamlin, Morrill and Blaine, arrived here at 12:30 P. M. by a special train, which was run direct to the railroad wharf. The party immediately embarked on the revenue steamer McCulloch and proceeded to Mount Desert. Notwithstanding the rain several hundred people gathered on the wharf, by whom the President was heartily cheered. A salute was fired on the McCulloch immediately after she left the wharf. At Bath, where the train made a brief stop on the way here, a large crowd assembled, to whom the President was introduced by Mayor Rice and bowed his thanks.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

A Puzzling Legal Question Decided.

NEW YORK, August 15.—The following question was raised in the Supreme Court today on a writ of habeas corpus: John Fogarty was sentenced at General Sessions in September, 1871, to eighteen months in the penitentiary for felony. He escaped in November, leaving fifteen months unexpired. Long after the period for which he was committed had elapsed he was returned to prison on a three months' sentence for a misdemeanor. The second sentence has been served, but the warden holds Fogarty as an escaped convict.—Counsel submitted that the warden could not hold a man on his own allegation; that such power would be dangerous and that a competent court should decide whether the prisoner was an escaped convict. Judge Davis said the prisoner was before the court on a proper process and did not traverse the warden's return as to being an escaped convict. The warden was bound to hold the prisoner for the remainder of the term and then proceed against him for escaping. The writ was then dismissed.

A MISSING YACHT SAFE.

The Block Island and Newport mail yacht supposed to be lost is safe. She was storm bound at the Island until this afternoon.

A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Marvin T. Rodman, late Secretary of the Brooklyn Trust Company, disappeared from his residence in Brooklyn rather mysteriously on Monday last. Several unfavorable rumors are afloat as to the cause of his disappearance.

THE UTICA RACES.

Judge Fullerton Wins the 2:21 Race.

UTICA, August 15.—The second day's races of the Utica Park Association came off to-day, being two days behind the programme on account of the rains on Wednesday and Thursday. The first part of the afternoon was threatening and light showers fell occasionally, but the races had to proceed, as the horses were wanted at Springfield. Later in the afternoon, however, the clouds broke away and the sun came out brightly. The attendance was larger than during the first day and up to the average attendance last year. The track was heavy, but considering the two days' rain was in fair condition.

The first race, the 2:21, was called at 3 o'clock; four started—Camors, Judge Fullerton, Lucille Golddust and Sensation. The race was won by Fullerton, taking first, second and fourth heats, Camors taking the third. In the third and fourth heats Fullerton broke badly. In the third heat he made a half mile in 1:04 and in the last heat, while closing the gap caused by his breaking, he made even better time than this. Time 2:22, 2:23¼, 2:23¾, 2:25¼.

For the 2:50 race nine started, with Clementine the favorite at three to one against the field. She took the race in three straight heats. Time 2:30, 2:29½, 2:31½.

The 2:30 and 2:24 races occur to-morrow.

THE ALBANY MURDER.

On Track of the Murderers.

ALBANY, August 15.—It being ascertained that the wife of Weston, the man murdered near here by Emil Lowenstein, a German barber of Brooklyn, did not start for St. Louis with Lowenstein Chief of Police Maloy has notified the police of western cities of that fact. Lowenstein is twenty-four years of age, five feet six inches high, weight about 140 pounds, dark hair and moustache. He wore when he left a light drab check suit, Panama hat and gaiter shoes. He is probably alone.

REPORTED ARREST OF THE MURDERED MAN'S WIFE.

NEW YORK, August 15.—One of the women arrested in Brooklyn last night is Mrs. Weston, wife of the one-armed man found horribly murdered a week ago near Albany, and in her possession was found a seven-barreled revolver, emptied. One of the other women was the wife of Emil Lowenstein and another revolver was found on her premises with five barrels empty. Another woman, unknown, was also arrested. They were all found in Weston's house on Palmetto street, Brooklyn, in one-half of which Lowenstein and wife lived, Weston occupying the other part. Weston, the murdered man, was a one-armed soldier and sold prize packages for a living and the day he left Brooklyn drew a considerable sum of money from the bank. It is believed Weston's wife assisted Emil Lowenstein in murdering her husband; that the wife of Lowenstein witnessed the murder and the other woman was cognizant of the affair. They were all taken to Albany to-night.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Report on the Yellowstone Route.

NEW YORK, August 15.—General Rosser, in charge of the railroad survey of the Stanley Yellowstone Expedition, has submitted to the authorities of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company in this city his official report of the results thus far accomplished by the Expedition. He finds the new and final route across western Dakota from the Missouri to the Yellowstone Rivers entirely practicable and satisfactory, it being greatly superior to those of former days. The distance, two hundred and five miles, is twenty-one miles shorter than the survey of 1871. The gradients are moderate. The average of the work per mile is considerable less. The number of important bridges is reduced nearly two-thirds. The Little Missouri River, which by former surveys is crossed seven and eleven times, is crossed only once on the line so located.

The report states that the main body of General Stanley's expedition accompanied the scientific corps and most of the press correspondents did not accompany the engineers, who were escorted by General Custer's detachment, but followed the old abandoned route south of Heart River; hence the description of the region traversed by the main commend do not apply to the country traversed by the new route for the railroad. The directors of the company have accepted the new line recommended by General Rosser from Bismarck, the present end of the track, to the Yellowstone crossing and have called for proposals to grade and bridge this section of two hundred and five miles. The expedition is now prosecuting the survey westward up the left bank of the Yellowstone to Pompey's Pillar, where it will join the survey made last year from the west and thus complete the surveyed line across the continent. The entire command expected to return to Fort Rice about October first.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

A Prisoner Killed.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., August 15.—This morning, while Charles A. Manning, deputy warden of the prison, and Mr. St. John, President of the Board of Directors, were alone in the guard room of the prison, Joseph Simpson, a prisoner, armed with a cooper's broad-axe, entered the room and advanced toward Manning, exclaiming "Damn you! I will kill you." The deputy drew a revolver and ordered the man to leave the room, at the same time threatening to shoot him if he did not obey. Simpson continued to advance, springing from side to side to avoid the pistol, when Mr. St. John seized a chair and struck him, which, however, failed to prevent his advance. Recovering from the blow the prisoner rushed at the deputy, who fired and followed the first shot with two others. Mustering his failing strength, the prisoner threw the axe with all his force, narrowly missing the deputy's head, and then fell. As he fell the deputy fired a fourth shot. The second shot was fatal, as was afterwards ascertained. No motive for the act is known except that the prisoner had once escaped and had an idea that the deputy had something to do with his recapture. A coroner's jury exonerated Manning.

A VIENNA PRIZE.

—When Mrs. Siddons was playing Lady Macbeth in Dublin, at that part where a drum sounds, and she exclaims, "A drum! a drum! Macbeth doth come!" there was some difficulty or neglect in obtaining the necessary instrument, and to her amazement a trumpet was sounded. She immediately saw how absurd it would be to say "drum" while the sound of the trumpet filled the ears of the audience, so she said "A trumpet! a trumpet!" and stopped short, amid breathless silence, not knowing how to rhyme, when a voice from the gallery called out, "Macbeth doth stump it!" at which the house broke out into a peal of laughter and applause, and the tragedienne advanced to the footlights and bowed her acknowledgment for the relief. She afterwards tried to find out who it was but failed to do so, and never forgot what she considered the most genuine piece of wit she had met with in all her experience.

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Saturday Morning, August 16.

Physicians and the mode of putting up their prescriptions form themes of practical moment to saint and sinner alike. Fortunate indeed are the favored ones who act through long and useful lives on Shakspeare's injunction to "throw physic to the dogs." Others must be more or less concerned as to the effect of drugs, and the relative skill of their dispensers. When the day comes that physicians will only be licensed to practice upon actual examination in every known mode of treatment, less cause will be found to charge any of them with prejudiced opinions.

In the watering resort correspondence of the day reference is from time to time made of children's balls, and childhood forwardness generally. The seed thus planted brings fruit in bad health, an idle, frivolous life, and a disrespect for seniority and the usual rules necessary to life's discipline. The fault for all this primarily lies with the parents, more especially mothers. The latter are also directly responsible for encouraging a habit of rich dressing among juveniles, thus keeping the latter to a great extent from natural, wholesome exercise. Precocity in children wants much restraining in this "fast age."

Now that the Sing Sing prison is not to located elsewhere, for this year at least, wouldn't it be well, in view of the crowded condition of our State prisons in this era of much crime, to devise some practical means of relief from overcrowding those structures? A well known magazine writer, Col. Nordhoff we believe, contributed to a late number of Scribner's Monthly his views on this subject, suggesting penal banishment for terms of sentence to far-off Alaska, under United States military supervision. Instead of thus sending all criminals, the experiment might be tried with a surplus of the worst cases; by which means prison overcrowding could be easily regulated.

Projected Improvements.

The wondrously wise and witty World tells us that "Orville Grant, the President's brother, has gone into the wood-pavement business. If the whole family will lay their heads together the enterprise can be made a success." We take that for Grant-ed; and now if the speechless chief editor of a certain cosmopolitan journal could be induced to sacrifice himself for the good of the city whose destitution and dirt he so deeply deplores, there might be a polished Marble sidewalk adjacent to that wooden pavement.

The Saint's Rest.

Poor Richard Baxter, in spite of his dyspepsia, gave the world a detailed and graphic account of Heaven and the way to get there.—And inasmuch as he located the Promised Land many a league beyond this darksome vale of tears, he had no trouble in looking up a permanent site in this world. Brigham Young is more materialistic. Golden harps and golden streets are well enough in poetry, while to inspire a lagging spiritual procession there is nothing better; but Brigham has a keen eye to corner lots, crops and stocks.—Utah answered all the conditions required by him as a lengthened antepost to the New Jerusalem, until clouds of heretical locusts from the unbelieving and monogamous states began to swarm around him. Railroads are too many and too long. Legislation about Mormonism is becoming too manifold and too applicable. His wives are imbibing in the same noxious draught both information and discontent. Ann Eliza has sued for a divorce. The case is complicated. If she is not Brigham's wife according to the laws of the United States, she needs no divorce. If she is, by her own free will she became so, and by her own confession Young has fulfilled the terms of the contract. Anyway, Brigham must move.—Where will be go? It is hard to tell. The commission he sent out to find a better Canaan has returned only to report a failure. Mormonism has quarreled with the times and must go under. Our advice to its leader is that he commune, if possible, with the spirit of Mohammed, and together they may arrange for a combination of their "institutions" somewhere in space. Otherwise Salt Lake City dies with Constantinople, and the almond-eyed houris of the East perish dramatically in the arms of the skinny wives of the West. That, too, would be a hard death for the houris.

That "Stereotyped Sneer."

Our good friend, the Ellenville Journal, is moved to remark that "the stereotyped sneer at 'Christian statesmen,' which seems to be the readiest if not the most effective weapon employed in political discussion by a certain class of papers, has found its way into the columns of the Rondout Freeman." We hardly know whether to regard so much of the above quotation as follows the last comma in the light of a compliment or not. If the Journal intends to express surprise that anything having the least likeness to a "sneer" of the sort described should have found its way into The Freeman, we are duly thankful for its ante-factum faith in our not being likely to say wrong things. But if, on the contrary, the Journal means to rank us with "a certain class of papers" of which "sneering" allusions may be predicated in advance, why, then to be sure, we have no occasion to be grateful. We do not now remember in what connection the objectionable sneer was uttered, although it must have concerned in some way the politico-financial situation. The gist of the matter will rattle in a filbert shell. The only man who has been eminently termed a Christian statesman is Schuyler Colfax. That excellent Sunday school speaker became fatally mixed up in the Credit Mobilier frauds. Neither of the several explanations of his unhappy position, offered by him or his friends, has had the ring of truth about it. Every one has either been contradicted or quietly abandoned. Mr. Colfax, politically speaking, is a buried man. Oakes Ames under the sod is scarcely more so. We are not glad of this fact. We are heartily sorry for it, as for every lapse from virtue or reputation by any man in whom we once believed. Our fashion is to speak of them, however, with candor and fairness. We beg nobody's permission to condemn them and we copy no "stereotyped sneer" at them. Our sympathies with the Christian religion as a political and social force are full and perfect, but we care as little for the orthodox whitewash that covers a conservative humbug as we do for the rant that announces a new dispensation.

The Railway Laocoon.

There is a well known group of statuary in the Vatican at Rome entitled the Laocoon. It is stated by Pliny to have been the work of sculptors from Rhodes, and represents a father and two sons struggling vainly against being crushed to death by the coils of serpents. Although suffering the agonies of strangulation, the set teeth and writhing muscles indicate how desperately they protest and how disgusting they feel their punishment to be. The sons of Antenor perish at last, however, for the patriotic act of striking a spear into the side of the wooden horse with which the cunning Greeks were attempting to gain a bloodless entrance to the city of Troy. Without intending it those men of the skillful chisel created a marble prophecy of the condition of the United States to-day within the coils of the railroad anacondas. The far-stretching folds of these gigantic monopolies are fast enclosing every private interest in the country. It is difficult if not impossible to form an organization to resist their ravenous demands. The moment a movement is made looking toward this end men shrink away from connecting themselves with it, because of the damage these corporations can do to private business. The Central Pacific Railroad, according to Gov. Booth, of California, makes discriminating rates in favor of its friends and tools and inimical to its enemies. The commercial marine of the nation is largely at their mercy. Merchants along or near the great trunk lines dare not disregard the orders of the railway magnates, however much they may inwardly curse and revile them. The yoke of a contemptible servitude is upon their necks and the question of obedience to railroad authority is at once a question of existence. This is simple enough to comprehend. Here is a man whose property is entirely contained within the area of a town lying on one of the Vanderbilt roads, for instance. That road is his way to market, it can affect the price of his produce to be shipped, it can affect the desirableness of his real estate by manipulating its trains for that object; in a word he is bound hand and foot with railroad iron. The power of a great corporation is still more clearly perceptible in this direction in case of western villages, cities and towns. Those places are both the creatures of the railways and their vassals. Rates of transportation are changed or depots moved to their disadvantage at any time. Secret orders to the employees not to patronize certain parties and to buy of others are no uncommon things. Politically what used to be said of New Jersey is true of larger states, i. e. that it was "a branch of the Camden and Amboy Railroad." Railroad subsidy legislation is put through to the help of popular (?) votes from men who get their daily bread out of land mortgaged to railroad corporations. Not less than two hundred and twenty millions of acres of public land have been given away by Congress to these companies in the United States; and bills are now pending proposing a grant of nearly two hundred millions more. The Southern States, which are so pressingly in need of multiplied railroad facilities now that they are rising from the low level of a dead slave system, have been robbed by bogus corporations, to which gifts of land and money have been made; while the roads themselves have never been built. Gov. Booth complains that the Pacific Railway can defy the state of California to collect its taxes. This is partially because the state is bonded for the road, but in our own state of New York experience has shown that to collect taxes of the Erie or the Central has been no easy matter if the officials were inclined to be pugnacious. Whether the compulsory cession of all railroad property to the general government, to be operated and owned by it, as we suggested yesterday as to the telegraphic lines, would be wise, may not be perfectly clear.—But as a basis for some legal and daring action, the popular war against these selfish monopolies should deepen and widen. If apathy and submission are to rule the hour the fate of the priest of Neptune will be ours, and the iron snakes will stuff their jaws with the crushed carcasses of forty million fools.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Gen. Schenck, our Minister to England, is credited with saying that London has an atmosphere but no climate.

—Brooklyn advices report a pending raid by the new Police Board upon the faro and policy dealers of that city.

—The New York Tribune utters a sensible growl against a Broadway calcium light near a place of amusement, alleging that it fairly blinds people's eyes a block off each way from it, and causes much profanity on the part of many of them.

—Probably the most general political attention, such little as there is, centres upon Massachusetts, in regard to whether it will swallow or bolt Butler. Curiosity has doubtless more to do with outside interest than any special feeling for the old Bay State.

—Of the three hundred inspectors on the New York Custom House pay roll it is affirmed a very large number have "a good, soft thing of it;" some owning brown stone houses, and others keeping fast horses. Hence the concern among them to learn who of their number are marked at Washington for official beheading, as commonly reported.

—Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs, father of the well-known Brooklyn pastor of that name, has died at Braintree, Mass., at an advanced age, after a continued pastorate there of sixty-two years—the anniversary of which was observed one month ago. The venerable deceased took his charge on an original salary of $800 annually, which he never after would allow to be increased. A very remarkable incident in his life.

—The immense personal wealth of Queen Victoria, before alluded to in this column of The Freeman, came originally from her late husband's share in a real estate combination, whereby a few prominent individuals—Prince Albert one of them—over twenty years ago bought up a large plot of poorly covered London land, which is now densely occupied by elegant mansions. Prince Albert's share in this transaction descended to the Queen entire—the Prince of Wales, at his father's death, being under the latter's ban by reason of personal misconduct.

—Perhaps the most noted southern summer resort is the White Sulphur Springs of Virginia. The war last past had made much change in its patrons. Col. Peyton, the proprietor of a principal hotel, sums up the old custom by a story, plaintive enough, of one southern family, in these words: They came to the Springs with as many as seventeen servants and thirty horses, with children and friends, and spent the summer in grandest of style and gayest of society. To-day the father lies in a soldier's grave; estate is gone; widow is cultivating a few acres of corn to keep body and soul together; and the son is a street car conductor in the city of Baltimore. The present patrons are chiefly young married couples who come here for a few days' honeymoon; invalids for the refreshing effects of the baths and water; some for the charms of dancing and society, others for its delicious mountain air and scenery.

—Recorder Hackett has sentenced a "roper in" of a gambling house to two years in the State Prison and a fine of $1,000, which, of course, he will have to work out, which will make his term about five or six years in all.

—A report says the underwriters are soon to increase largely the rates of insurance throughout Boston, because of the hesitancy of the city authorities in increasing the efficiency of the fire department.

—Dispatches from Austin, Texas, state that Gov. Davis, on his return to that city from the North, reported that he had received offers of 70 cents on the dollar for $900,000 of State bonds which he took with him to negotiate, but declined to part with them for less than 85. The State officials here decided not to offer the bonds again until a better condition of affairs exists in the money market. Gov. Davis's friends express the greatest confidence of his renomination at Dallas next week.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—Morning for labor, evening for repose.

—The Delaware River is 2,000 feet above the sea-level.

—Wes. Allen, the well-known state prison scoundrel, is reported to be seriously ill.

—M. Gounod has finished a new opera named "Joan of Arc." It will be performed in Paris this fall.

—Mrs. Josephine Mansfield is living in Paris and appears in great splendor at the Bois de Boulogne.

—A Saratoga lady has so many diamonds that a special policeman is employed to guard her.

—Back-pay grabbers returning from Europe are astonished that the noise hasn't blown over.

—A rich young fellow of seventeen has been arrested at Horseheads, N. Y., for dealing in counterfeit money by the sawdust game.

—An ox recently killed by lightning in Iowa, was afterwards discovered to have every bone in its body broken in many pieces.

—Three hundred thousand cattle, four hundred thousand sheep and five hundred thousand hogs are annually handled at the West Albany cattle yards.

—The trotting mares Goldsmith Maid and Lucy make their journeys in their own private stable car, which is elegantly and expensively fitted up.

—Hay sells at forty dollars per ton at Troy; in New York city at eighteen dollars. Consumers are bothering their brains in deciphering the financial riddle.

—Barnum spent $10,000 for advertising in St. Louis (purchasing a whole page of the newspapers), and had receipts amounting to $60,000.

—William Craft, whom Theodore Parker married and presented with a bible and pistol in the old fugitive slave and underground railroad days, is working for the education of the colored people in Georgia.

—"Dr." Paul Davis, under arrest charged with abortion in Rochester, promises to make it hot for some of his patrons if they do not come forward as his bail, and the papers promise to publish the names of all offering as bail.

—The victory of the Sioux over the Pawnees, though a bloody one, was nothing to boast of. The Sioux numbered one thousand warriors, while the Pawnees had but one hundred and fifty men, and most of the slain were women and children. The Sioux never fight willingly at a disadvantage.

—Newport, with a population of 13,000, possesses real estate valued at $17,654,600 and personal property valued at $9,832,900; total, $27,487,500, or more than $2,000 to each inhabitant, and yet no business seems to be done there except that of keeping boarding houses.

—The Pall Mall Gazette criticizes Miss Kate Field's "Haphazard" with contempt. Her representations of English life and institutions are absurd; her jokes and puns are feeble or miserable; her opinions rabid; and her style ridiculous.

—The average number of trains passing over the Central Railroad daily is about 98—or one every fifteen minutes! It is believed that, upon the completion of the new tracks, at least three times that number will pass daily, or one every five minutes.

—The democracy of Maine have unquestionably secured for a standard-bearer the strongest man in the party, one who commands the respect of all by his unblemished reputation. Yet, with this great point gained at the outset, the result is easily predicted—an overwhelming defeat for Joseph Titcomb at the polls.—[Boston Journal.

—Gen. Robert Lowry, of Mississippi, declines to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. The leading party paper in the State believes that he could have been the choice of the party for its standard bearer; but as the Republicans intend to carry the State again, perhaps it is better for Mr. Lowry to keep out of the fight.

—The Brooklyn Eagle says that Hon. Daniel Pratt announces that he will support General Butler for Governor of Massachusetts if Butler will "go in" for him "for the next Presidency." It cannot be denied that Hon. Daniel Pratt is a fluent speaker. The "talked to death" cards make no more impression upon him than water on the back of a goose.

—The Lake Champlain serpent must take a back seat. It has a rival. That rival is a Southern one, of an amiable temper. A gentleman, while lately employed in gathering the pleasant raspberry, became fatigued and sat himself down upon what he supposed was a log. To his dismay he immediately began moving down hill, and presently found that he was seated upon the back of an immense snake sixty feet long and corpulent in proportion. He arose directly and gracefully retired.

—Miss Nettie C. Stewart applied for a license to practice law during a recent session of the court in Gadsdens, Ala., but her examiner found her incompetent. Then there was a pretty row. She got wrathy and said it was no more than she expected, and called the court and bar a band of robbers. The judge told the sheriff to put her out of the room for contempt, but she dared him to do it, at the risk of his eyes. The court then peremptorily ordered her to keep quiet or she would have to go to jail, and she subsided.

—The Boston Herald asserts that an infant only five days old died from fright in Newtonville, Msss., on Friday last, under the following circumstances: "On that evening a very heavy thunder-storm prevailed in this vicinity, and at each report of the thunder the babe jumped spasmodically, and gave every evidence of thorough fright possible in so young and infant. At last a terrific clap came, the child's limbs twitched convulsively, and it died instantly. The lightning struck a house only a few rods distant, but it is not thought that the electricity had any effect upon the child, for it was not felt by any others.

—The wicked boys of Chicago are fellows of infinite resources, as shown by the case of Elijah Harris, arrested for highway robbery and temporarily lodged in jail for the want of bail in the sum of one thousand dollars, which was more money than he had about him, though he was by no means penniless. This condition, however, characterized another wicked boy of about Elijah's size, who was put in the cell with him preparatory to being taken to a place to "work out" a five dollar fine. So the two little rascals exchanged clothes, and Elijah went off to the workhouse next morning, paid the five dollar fine and escaped, whereupon the other boy disclosed the trick, and demanded his freedom, offering to pay his fine with the money which Elijah had considerately left for that purpose.

TELEGRAPH.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN.

FOREIGN.

GERMANY.

A Hit at the New York World.

BERLIN, August 15.—The North German Gazette stigmatizes as disgusting the invention of the report in American papers of an interview with Prince Bismarck in which the Prince is made to say that he would extirpate the idea of God and substitute that of the State. It declares that Bismarck never used such language or advocated such sentiments and believes the falsehood originated in the machinations of the Jesuits.

SPAIN.

Insurgents Levying Contributions.

MADRID, August 14.—One thousand insurgent refugees from Valencia have landed on the coast of Alicante and are levying contributions on rich towns.

INSURGENT VESSELS FIRED UPON.

MADRID, August 15.—Five British, three Italian and an American man-of-war were laying in Escombrera bay on Thursday. Three insurgent vessels arrived outside, when Fort Galeras fired on them. A few shots were exchanged without apparent effect.

Cartagena is preparing for a long struggle. All males above sixteen years of age have been enrolled. The streets are almost deserted and the shops are closed.

The insurgents are issuing paper money.

It is believed that the iron-clads Salamanca and Vittoria will be held by the Germans until an organized government exists to which they can be returned.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Honoring the Dead Emperor.

LONDON, August 15.—Six hundred French Imperialists met at Chiselhurst to-day and celebrated the fete day of the late Emperor. Prince Louis Napoleon made a speech, in the course of which he said: "Planting myself as an exile near the tomb of the Emperor I represent his teachings, which may be summarized in the motto, 'Govern for the people by the people.'" The Prince was loudly cheered and the meeting was most enthusiastic.

AWARDING VIENNA PRIZES.

LONDON, August 15.—A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that the prizes will be awarded by the Commissioners on Tuesday next. Nine grand diplomas of honor, the highest prizes given, have been awarded to Americans, namely: The first to the United States government for the display of cotton and products; the second to the National Bureau of education; the third to the state of Massachusetts; the fourth to the city of Boston; the fifth to the Smithsonian Institute, Washington—these four for excellence in methods and progress of education and schools; the sixth to Walter Abbot Wood of Hoosic Falls, N. Y., for agricultural machinery, the seventh to Wm. Sellers & Co., Philadelphia, for progress in iron manufactures; the eighth to Samuel S. White for dentistry; the ninth to George H. Corlies, of New York, for machinery. No diplomas have been awarded to sewing machines as there is too much competition, but all will have medals of merit and progress awarded them.

In the machinery department, where Americans make the most display, medals will be given to some fifty exhibitors, averaging about one in three. The discussion of the merits of articles continues and the decision as to awards will be concluded on Monday.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

More Indian Difficulties.

WASHINGTON, August 15.—A letter from Fort Concho, Texas, July 30th, reports a band of thirty Indians from Fort Stanton, New Mexico, reservation with passes to hunt on the staked plains forty days, embraced the opportunity to steal 143 horses and 14 mules and killed a herder at Pecos River, causing 9,000 head of cattle to be turned loose.

Additional particulars have been received at the War Department from Lieut. J. N. Wheelan, commanding Camp Palmer, Wyoming Territory, in regard to the Indian raid on settlers on the Popagie on the 23d of July, and the murder of Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Richards. These two ladies lived near the site of the old Camp Brown and were outraged by the Indians first and then killed. After robbing the house of all valuables the Indians drove off the stock. They took the opportunity to make the attack when most of the men of the settlement were absent in the mountains, and they did not attempt to interfere with the few men left in the valley behind. Mrs. Richards was killed outright, but Mrs. Hall lived many hours, though insensible. Lieut. Wheelan took the trail and vigorously pursued the Indians, marching sixty-five miles the first twenty-four hours. After another march of thirty-five miles a terrific hail storm took place, entirely obliterating the trail. The Indians, well knowing they would be pursued, scattered in all directions and the pursuit had to be abandoned. The Indians were Sioux from the vicinity of Fort Fetterman.

In forwarding this letter Gen. Sheridan again calls attention to his endorsement of August. 8th on the letter of Lieut. Col. Brackett, in which he says, "However, if the Government will let us punish the Indians after they reach home with the troops stationed at Fetterman and Laramine I think we can do it by taking advantage of some favorable opportunity,"

THE RUMORED NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE FRAUDS.

The Treasury Department recently sent to New York Mr. Vanderbilt of that department to examine into the report of a couple of cases of alleged fraud in importing in 1867. The names of several Custom House officers now in office having been mentioned in that connection the chief object of his visit was to ascertain whether they were implicated in the fraud or improper transactions. Mr. Vanderbilt returned to Washington to-day and reports to the Secretary that there was nothing whatever to implicate these officers in wrong-doing. This was the only matter which occupied his attention while in New York. His visit had no connection whatever with the removal of anybody, nor had any orders been previously issued for the purpose or for examining into the conduct of the officers and employees connected with any branch of the Custom House.

THE COTTON CROP.

The returns of the Agricultural Department for the 1st of August indicate a general and somewhat marked improvement in the condition and promise of the cotton crop since the 1st of July.

MICHIGAN.

Suicide of Hon. William Stoddard.

DETROIT, August 15.—A special dispatch announces the death of Hon. Wm. Stoddard, at Litchfield, in this State. He was delirious at the time of the fatal act.

OHIO.

A Diabolical Plot.

MANSFIELD, O., August 15.—Some time ago W. H. Dobbs, a farmer, attempted to outrage a little girl named Barnard. He failed in the attempt and was arrested. A suit is now pending in court against him. In order to prevent the attendance of the girl and her father as witnesses, Dobbs employed two ruffians, Lightfoot and Winfield, to blow up Barnard's house. Winfield betrayed the others in time to prevent the execution of the scheme, which was to have taken place on Wednesday night. Dobbs and Lightfoot were arrested, and in the latter's possession was a quantity of powder and fuse.

THE PRESIDENT IN MAINE.

He and His Party Visit Mount Desert.

ROCKLAND, Me., August 15.—President Grant and suite, accompanied by Gov. Perham and Messrs. Hamlin, Morrill and Blaine, arrived here at 12:30 P. M. by a special train, which was run direct to the railroad wharf. The party immediately embarked on the revenue steamer McCulloch and proceeded to Mount Desert. Notwithstanding the rain several hundred people gathered on the wharf, by whom the President was heartily cheered. A salute was fired on the McCulloch immediately after she left the wharf. At Bath, where the train made a brief stop on the way here, a large crowd assembled, to whom the President was introduced by Mayor Rice and bowed his thanks.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

A Puzzling Legal Question Decided.

NEW YORK, August 15.—The following question was raised in the Supreme Court to-day on a writ of habeas corpus: John Fogarty was sentenced at General Sessions in September, 1871, to eighteen months in the penitentiary for felony. He escaped in November, leaving fifteen months unexpired. Long after the period for which he was committed had elapsed he was returned to prison on a three months' sentence for a misdemeanor. The second sentence has been served, but the warden holds Fogarty as an escaped convict.—Counsel submitted that the warden could not hold a man on his own allegation; that such power would be dangerous and that a competent court should decide whether the prisoner was an escaped convict. Judge Davis said the prisoner was before the court on a proper process and did not traverse the warden's return as to being an escaped convict. The warden was bound to hold the prisoner for the remainder of the term and then proceed against him for escaping. The writ was then dismissed.

A MISSING YACHT SAFE.

The Block Island and Newport mail yacht supposed to be lost is safe. She was storm bound at the Island until this afternoon.

A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Marvin T. Rodman, late Secretary of the Brooklyn Trust Company, disappeared from his residence in Brooklyn rather mysteriously on Monday last. Several unfavorable rumors are afloat as to the cause of his disappearance.

THE UTICA RACES,

Judge Fullerton Wins the 2:21 Race.

UTICA, August 15.—The second day's races of the Utica Park Association came off to-day, being two days behind the programme on account of the rains on Wednesday and Thursday. The first part of the afternoon was threatening and light showers fell occasionally, but the races had to proceed, as the horses were wanted at Springfield. Later in the afternoon, however, the clouds broke away and the sun came out brightly. The attendance was larger than during the first day and up to the average attendance last year. The track was heavy, but considering the two days' rain was in fair condition.

The first race, the 2:21, was called at 3 o'clock; four started—Camors, Judge Fullerton, Lucille Golddust and Sensation. The race was won by Fullerton, taking first, second and fourth heats, Camors taking the third. In the third and fourth heats Fullerton broke badly. In the third heat he made a half mile in 1:04 and in the last heat, while closing the gap caused by his breaking, he made even better time than this. Time 2:22, 2:23¼, 2:23¾, 2:25½.

For the 2:50 race nine started, with Clementine the favorite at three to one against the field. She took the race in three straight heats. Time 2:30, 2:29½, 2:31½.

The 2:30 and 2:24 races occur to-morrow.

THE ALBANY MURDER.

On Track of the Murderers.

ALBANY, August 15.—It being ascertained that the wife of Weston, the man murdered near here by Emil Lowenstein, a German barber of Brooklyn, did not start for St. Louis with Lowenstein Chief of Police Maloy has notified the police of western cities of that fact. Lowenstein is twenty-four years of age, five feet six inches high, weight about 140 pounds, dark hair and moustache. He wore when he left a light drab check suit, Panama hat and gaiter shoes. He is probably alone.

REPORTED ARREST OF THE MURDERED MAN'S WIFE.

NEW YORK, August 15.—One of the women arrested in Brooklyn last night is Mrs. Weston, wife of the one-armed man found horribly murdered a week ago near Albany, and in her possession was found a seven-barreled revolver, emptied. One of the other women was the wife of Emil Lowenstein and another revolver was found on her premises with five barrels empty. Another woman, unknown, was also arrested. They were all found in Weston's house on Palmetto street, Brooklyn, in one-half of which Lowenstein and wife lived, Weston occupying the other part. Weston, the murdered man, was a one-armed soldier and sold prize packages for a living and the day he left Brooklyn drew a considerable sum of money from the bank. It is believed Weston's wife assisted Emil Lowenstein in murdering her husband; that the wife of Lowenstein witnessed the murder and the other woman was cognizant of the affair. They were all taken to Albany to-night.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Report on the Yellowstone Route.

NEW YORK, August 15.—General Rosser, in charge of the railroad survey of the Stanley Yellowstone Expedition, has submitted to the authorities of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company in this city his official report of the results thus far accomplished by the Expedition. He finds the new and final route across western Dakota from the Missouri to the Yellowstone Rivers entirely practicable and satisfactory, it being greatly superior to those of former days. The distance, two hundred and five miles, is twenty-one miles shorter than the survey of 1871. The gradients are moderate. The average of the work per mile is considerable less. The number of important bridges is reduced nearly two-thirds. The Little Missouri River, which by former surveys is crossed seven and eleven times, is crossed only once on the line so located.

The report states that the main body of General Stanley's expedition accompanied the scientific corps and most of the press correspondents did not accompany the engineers, who were escorted by General Custer's detachment, but followed the old abandoned route south of Heart River; hence the description of the region traversed by the main commend do not apply to the country traversed by the new route for the railroad. The directors of the company have accepted the new line recommended by General Rosser from Bismarck, the present end of the track, to the Yellowstone crossing and have called for proposals to grade and bridge this section of two hundred and five miles. The expedition is now prosecuting the survey westward up the left bank of the Yellowstone to Pompey's Pillar, where it will join the survey made last year from the west and thus complete the surveyed line across the continent. The entire command expected to return to Fort Rice about October first.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

A Prisoner Killed.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., August 15.—This morning, while Charles A. Manning, deputy warden of the prison, and Mr. St. John, President of the Board of Directors, were alone in the guard room of the prison, Joseph Simpson, a prisoner, armed with a cooper's broad-axe, entered the room and advanced toward Manning, exclaiming "Damn you! I will kill you." The deputy drew a revolver and ordered the man to leave the room, at the same time threatening to shoot him if he did not obey. Simpson continued to advance, springing from side to side to avoid the pistol, when Mr. St. John seized a chair and struck him, which, however, failed to prevent his advance. Recovering from the blow the prisoner rushed at the deputy, who fired and followed the first shot with two others. Mustering his failing strength, the prisoner threw the axe with all his force, narrowly missing the deputy's head, and then fell. As he fell the deputy fired a fourth shot. The second shot was fatal, as was afterwards ascertained. No motive for the act is known except that the prisoner had once escaped and had an idea that the deputy had something to do with his recapture. A coroner's jury exonerated Manning.

A VIENNA PRIZE.

Boston Gets It.

BOSTON, August 15.—A letter received to-day from Mr. Philbrick, Superintendent of Schools of this city, dated Vienna, July 25th, says: To-day the international jury for group H has voted on all the highest honors to be awarded to this group and Boston receives by a unanimous vote the diploma of honor, the highest distinction, as the one and only American city entitled to it.

Gold—114⅞.

—When Mrs. Siddons was playing Lady Macbeth in Dublin, at that part where a drum sounds, and she exclaims, "A drum! a drum! Macbeth doth come!" there was some difficulty or neglect in obtaining the necessary instrument, and to her amazement a trumpet was sounded. She immediately saw how absurd it would be to say "drum" while the sound of the trumpet filled the ears of the audience, so she said "A trumpet! a trumpet!" and stopped short, amid breathless silence, not knowing how to rhyme, when a voice from the gallery called out, "Macbeth doth stump it!" at which the house broke out into a peal of laughter and applause, and the tragedienne advanced to the footlights and bowed her acknowledgment for the relief. She afterwards tried to find out who it was but failed to do so, and never forgot what she considered the most genuine piece of wit she had met with in all her experience.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—There were hosts of pretty maidens at St. Mary's church pic-nic in O'Reilly's grove yesterday,—and good clothes? My, though!

—Soon after the sun shone forth yesterday Union avenue was crowded with people going to the pic-nic.

—The pupils in our public schools are counting the days which are to elapse before trouble commences.

—Mill street was the scene of a combat between a cock and a pigeon yesterday, and the pigeon caused the other bird to skedaddle.

—There was a soiree musicale in John Schnitzler's yesterday afternoon. Some chap was calling forth the most lugubrious strains from a cracked fiddle.

—That Poughkeepsie Bridge must be so arranged that cars can have their load of coal dumped into the holds of vessels, giving them instant dispatch, for no sail vessel was lading coal in the creek yesterday, though there were some barges taking in black diamonds, and an occasional sail craft could be seen loading cement, blue stone, lime, &c., with now and then a barge filling up with ice for the New York market.

Religious.

Rev. Dr. Farr of Albany will preach in the East Front street M. E. Church on Sunday, Aug. 17th, morning and evening.

Good Mr. Toucey.

Travelers on the Hudson River Railroad will be delighted to learn that the annoyance lately experienced by them from the visitations of venders of prize packages of candy and pop-corn has been stopped by a stringent order from Mr. Toucey, the Superintendent of the road, forbidding the sale of those articles. Good Mr. Toucey!

Personal.

McD. Van Wagoner, an attache of The Freeman, has gone to some unknown (to us) region to rusticate for a few days. We will probably be advised of some of Mac's doings during his absence from Kingston.

A number of our city pleasure seekers who left for Long Branch during Wednesday and Thursday had a tempestuous journey.

Tableaux.

A young lady from this city who is visiting friends at Hillsborough, Province of New Brunswick, in writing home gives an account of a strawberry festival in that cool land, at which some young ladies were to give tableaux, and just before the curtain was to rise upon the first one a native was heard to ask "how is it you eat them tableaux, any way?"

Coal Arrival.

Yesterday 40 canal boats laden with 5,098 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

Owing to the late storms, the streams between this city and High Falls were so much swollen no boats were locked through the canal, between the above named places, during Thursday night, which accounts for the small amount of coal which arrived yesterday.

What's the Matter?

The Rondout Freeman of Wednesday was received at the post-office last night, and none of yesterday's came to hand. Why is this thusly?—Po'keepsie Eagle.

Must be some oversight in the post-office down there, Bridge-it: the paper is mailed regularly every morning. The Eagle miss quilts very often also, and then we're unhappy.

Complimentary.

We do not hesitate in asserting that the Rondout Daily Freman is the ablest edited daily exchange upon our list outside of New York city. Its editorials are the production of exalted, liberal and go-ahead minds, while its local news exhibit enterprise, wit and good judgment. We would like to know the names of the men who compose its editorial and its reporting staff.—Port Jervis Evening Gazette.

To the Evening Gazette we make our best bow as we thank them for the compliment.

Serious Accident.

A man named Cramer on Friday engaged a horse and wagon for the purpose of visiting some lots he had recently purchased near Kingston, on the Saugerties road. When near the residence of Mr. Calkins the horse ran away and Mr. Cramer was thrown out and very severely injured, several of his ribs being broken and an arm terribly torn. We have learned no further particulars.

Accident to a Wilbur Sloop.

The Newburgh Telegraph says: "The sloop C. Hadden, of Wilbur, while passing this city on Thursday afternoon, met with an accident when opposite the Long Dock; she attempted to tack and come about on the other tack, but was caught by a flaw of wind, and before she could turn her boom broke in the centre and fell overboard, carrying the sail and part of the rigging with it. A man immediately went out on the floating mass and after several duckings succeeded in cutting the broken timber loose, when the sloop went off down the river."

The Hurley Bridge.

The Hurley folks are in trouble with the man who has taken the contract to repair the suspension bridge. The contractor is Horace Maxon, and it is claimed by the Commissioner that he is not doing the work according to contract. Maxon was to receive $1,500 for doing the work; $1,000 to be paid down, the remaining $500 to be paid when the work is completed. The Commissioner don't know whether it is best to get out an injunction and put a stop to the work or refuse to pay over the $500 until the job has been completed according to contract.

Level-headed.

From the Delaware Express we copy the following remarks concerning a level-headed man hereabouts: "There is at least one level-headed man in Ulster county. He has been collecting some small bills, and finds money just about as plenty as usual. He says if people wouldn't swallow this eternal palaver about 'money being so tight,' there wouldn't be half so much trouble. But when folks hear that money is scarce and hard to get, each one freezes to what he has got—puts it in old stockings and wallets and hides it away—and don't start it in circulation until the scare works off."

Fiendish Work.

On Wednesday, Aug. 6th, says the New Paltz Independent, some unprincipled, crime-loving scoundrels heaped a great pile of fence rails and railroad ties upon the trestlework of the Wallkill Valley Railway at Hickory Bush. A frightful accident was prevented by the timely discovery of the obstruction by some gentlemen a short time before the train came along. The atrocity of the deed may be imagined when we assert that, had not the impediment been removed, a whole train, with a large number of passengers, would have been precipitated in an instant about thirty feet, landing upon a yielding mass of marshy land, which would inevitably swallow up a train before it could be rescued.

Election of Officers.

At a regular meeting of Mechanics' Lodge, No. 673, I. O. of G. T., of South Rondout, Aug. 6th, 1873, the following officers were installed for the ensuing quarter by Wm. Bates, Lodge Deputy:

W. C. T., Isaac N. Seymour; W. V. T., Miss Mary Hotaling; Sec., E. M. Carter; F. Sec., Albert Hotaling; Treas., Wm. Bates; Chaplain, F. M. Pruden; Mar., D. C. Hotaling; O. G., M. G. Hotaling; I. G., Miss Sarah Hyde; Ass't. Sec., Emerson Love; Dep. Mar., Mrs. M. G. Hotaling; R. H. S., Miss Laura Lynch; L. H. S., Miss Addie Love.

Oh, Dear!

We understand that the latest man bearing a resemblance to President Grant is at the West End Hotel, the Rev. James Byron Murray, of Roundout, N. Y., the Grand Chaplain of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of that state. He is well known among Masons as a most eloquent and fascinating speaker.—Long Branch Daily News.

The air at Long Branch, or the "tod" at that famous summer resort, must have the same effect as opium on the brain of the gentle spirit who presides over the columns of the Long Branch Daily News, or he is as hungry for items as the sea is for bathers. The Rev. Mr. Murray looks about as much like Grant as a snapping-turtle looks like the celebrated racer Longfellow. Perhaps, though, Mr. Murray, since leaving Roundout and reaching Long Branch, has

"Suffered a sea change
Into something rich and strange."

Boots.

That winged god, the Middletown Mercury, drops the following dreadful hand-grenade into our office:-

"The "new hand" on the Freeman boastingly informs the public that he wears number 8 boots. And the public wonders why in nature so broad a foundation should have been laid for so slight a structure."

We said shoes, not boots, but Mercury scatters too much to make distinctions. So "the public wonders" does it, sweet soles? Permit us to intimate that it cannot marvel much to see the Mercury man going about in the diminutive foot-gear of some defunct Chinese woman. Cause why? The "public" recognizes the correctness of the principle set forth in the lines above quoted, and admits that extremities should correspond.

Hard at It.

Whatever complaints may come from other sources of "dull times" and "slack business," it does not seem that our boat builders are allowed time to open their mouths to give vent to any such cry. From the different yards along the creek come the ring of the mallet and the thud of the axe, the thump of the hammer as the spikes are driven home and the many sounds of active toil. A visit to the yard of Messrs. J. & J. McCausland shows that enterprising firm about as busy as it is possible for them to be, and the lively way in which the chips fly and the tar burns and the men move about suggests the thought that their reputation for thorough work and square dealing is bringing them a sure return, a fresh illustration that "virtue is its own reward." The yard now contains two of the large 600-ton barges, of which the firm has the contract for building a number, some of which have already been completed. The two now on the stocks are nearly finished and will soon be ready for launching—and then for a big time. Besides this new work, the barge Seymour has just had the finishing touches of extensive repairs put on, a sloop for Messrs. Fitch, the Wilbur stone dealers, and the sloop Ben Aken have been or are receiving a large amount of attention at the hands of the firm. The propeller Eagle is awaiting her turn and when she sails out after the work has been done she will astonish those who knew her before. The firm have about fifty men at work and keep them all on the go.

Along the River.

On Thursday morning a deck hand on the steamer Alida discovered the body of a colored man floating in the river near the foot of South Lansing street in Albany. The head of the drowned man was badly bruised, there being an extensive cut over the right eye. On his person were found a key, a dollar and five cents in money, and a picture of a colored woman.

Pleasure seekers from Saratoga, Lake George, Sharon Springs, &c., are beginning to return cityward, as is seen by the crowded state of the Albany night boats bound down, while those going up the river carry comparatively few passengers. The day boats Chauncy Vibbard and Daniel Drew continue to maintain their popularity with pleasure tourists. The Daniel Drew is a great favorite with our citizens, being commanded by Captain Ferdinan Frost, formerly of the Mary Powell, and catered for by Mr. Abram Van Woert, of this city.

A party of Albany ruffians who accompanied the Iron Moulders' Union excursion to Coxsackie on Monday last, attempted, with drawn knives, to obtain possession of the bar and kitchen of the Ferry Hotel in the last named place, but found they were dealing with people determined to assert their rights, as Mr. Losee, son-in-law and daughter soon forced them to beat a hasty retreat. We are delighted to learn that more than one of the ruffins required surgical treatment before their return. The inmates of the hotel are entitled to credit for resisting the onslaught of the cowardly set, who, by this time, have learned a lesson which they will not soon forget.

Assumption of the Blessed Virgin.

Yesterday occurred the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, which is a festival in the Roman Catholic Church, and a holy day of obligation, during which all persons who could refrained from work. Masses were celebrated in all the churches holding that faith in this city, as there were in such churches all the wide world over. The Bishop of this diocese issued a circular on the subject which was read in the three Catholic churches in this city on Sunday last. The circular read as follows:—"In order to incite the faithful throughout the world to more earnest and united prayer for the deliverance of the church from the bonds of her oppressors, the Holy Father grants a plenary indulgence to all who join in a tridnum, or three days' devotion, preparatory to the festival of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, reciting the litany of those three days, approaching the sacraments of Penance and the Holy Eucharist, within the same time, or on the festival. To those who say the litany with the intention of the Holy Father on any of these days, and perform the other conditions, an indulgence of seven years is granted."

In connection with the religious exercises in the churches there was a pic-nic given by the congregation of St. Mary's church in Mr. John O'Reilly's grove, which was attended by a large concourse of people, notwithstanding the unpleasant state of the weather, up to four o'clock, when it cleared away, and for so laudable an object, we could have wished to see it wearing its most favorable aspect during the entire day. The St. Mary's T. A. B. Society attended the pic-nic in a body, and before marching to the grove made the tour of the principal streets in the lower portion of the city, headed by Goeller's band, which discoursed the sweet strains of our national and Irish airs. At the grove dancing, competing in various Irish games for prizes, and social recreation of different characters were indulged in, beside partaking of the abundant refreshments which had been provided. It was not until the evening shades prevailed that the happy assemblage in the grove broke up, each individual well pleased with the day's innocent enjoyment.

Sagendorf vs. VanGaasbeek—Great Cabbage Head Suit.

A great cabbage head suit is soon to be tried uptown. We don't wish to have it supposed that this case is brought to determine which one of the litigants, plaintiff or defendant, is the biggest cabbage head. Neither would we have it understood this is a trial to settle the question of superiority of attorneys in regard to the question of cabbage heads, and we would distinctly have it known that this case has not been brought to determine whether the court is or is not a cabbage head. On the contrary, the action has been brought to recover the value of one thousand cabbage heads the plaintiff claims to have delivered to defendant. The defendant refuses to pay, claiming the cabbage heads were not in a marketable condition. All dealers in cabbage heads should attend this trial, for during its progress the value of cabbages, the large headed, the small headed, the soft headed and the Voorhees cabbage will be distinctly determined by renowned experts in cabbage heads. The case, no doubt, will be an interesting one, and is to be tried in 'Squire Chipp's court. The attorneys are D. W. Sparling for plaintiff, and George Van Etten for defendant. S. T. Hull of counsel for defendant.

Tows.

The following were yesterday's tows:

Steamer G. A. Hoyt—Ice barges Hudson, D. Terry, Winfield, scow G. F. Patten, schooner Thos. R. Wooley from Poughkeepsie, boats Mountain Maid, Josephine to New York, Susan to Haverstraw.

Steamer Oswego—Fifteen Del. & Hud. Co.'s boats for New York.

Steamer Herald—Barges Mohegan, A. H. Vandling, Scotland, ice barges Virginia, Brooklyn, boats Kate Poppleyac, William Cassey, Comet, 2 Del. & Hud. Co.'s boats, 2 Penn. Co.'s boats for Albany.

Propeller Farrington—Barge Republic to Poughkeepsie, 1 Del. & Hud. Co.'s boat, 9 Penn. Co.'s boats for Newburgh.

Propeller Columbia—Five Del. & Hud. Co.'s boats, 3 Penn. Co.'s boats for Hudson.

Up tows from New York:

Steamer A. B. Valentine—Boats Susquehanna, Wasp, A. Clark, C. H. Gage, J. B. Griffith, Antietam, Rebecca, Fremont, J. H. Drake, J. T. Hedrick to Hudson.

Steamer Marshall—Boats Amelia, A. L. Beers, J. Wessels, Enos Traver, C. C. Sprout, J. M. Coolidge, F. E. Cutler, Tommy Vaugn from Sing Sing, Lotus from Nyack, Brown from Piermont, ice barges Colgate, Wool, Del. & Hud. Co.'s boats.

CARD FROM DR. LOUGHRAN.

The Death of the Holmes Child.

KINGSTON, August 15th, 1873.

EDITOR OF DAILY FREEMAN—

Sir:—I had hoped that I should not be obliged to enter into the paper controversy going on in regard to the unfortunate death of the little son of Hiram Holmes. But what appears to be a statement of Mr. Eltinge in this morning's Freeman requires a word from me. Mr. Eltinge says that "Dr. Loughran, the attending physician, remarked both before and after the dose was administered that the child could not recover." This statement is simply false. On the contrary, I stated to the mother on my visit to the child the evening preceding its death, that the acute symptoms of its disease (cholera infantum) having abated, I had hopes of its recovery; that could it get the necessary rest and sleep (it not having had either for the past forty-eight hours) during the night, I should expect to find it better in the morning, and she was the only one I spoke to in regard to it. In the morning after its death I visited the drug store of Eltinge & Perrine and saw Mr. Perrine, and after investigating what I wished in regard to the preparation of the prescription, and giving him my opinion in regard to the child's death, I remarked that possibly it might have died had no mistake been made. This opinion I had also given to its father and mother, wishing of course to assuage their feelings as far as possible. And this is the only basis that Mr. E. has for stating that I had said that the child "could not recover." If Mr. E. will take the trouble to recollect he had further and more positive evidence that what he states was false. On a personal interview with him yesterday morning he received my opinion most emphatically as to the cause of the child's death, and if not yet satisfied a second call may convince him. In reference to his explanation as to how the prescription was made up, he admits that he not only made a mistake in its ingredients but also as to the amount, not seeming to think that this was more reprehensible than the other, for it must have been done with knowledge; for the prescription being before him, he could or should not make a mistake. The fact is that the change was made purposely and the remark made to a person standing by that one-half the amount of this article was about equivalent to the whole of the one prescribed, or words to that effect. He also states that he substituted the "diluted tincture of camphor for the pure tincture." Of what this "diluted tincture" is composed he may have a special knowledge. I confess to ignorance. If it is the "pure" diluted with water, then he confesses to ignorance of the common effect of water on camphor dissolved in alcohol, as the "pure tincture" is the water separating the alcohol and camphor uniting with the former, leaving the camphor floating on top, which is no tincture of camphor at all and of course should not be put up as such. If he means that there was less camphor in the "diluted" than in the "pure" he still has present the same amount of alcohol as in the "pure," which in a child of that age, given in that dose kills as quickly and as surely as though it was mixed with the camphor. But the evidence in the article itself put up by Eltinge is too clear to admit of a doubt that the material given was "pure" tincture of camphor and that in the full amount prescribed for the "aqua camphor," viz., 4 drachms, of which, if there is any doubt, let such person call at my office, examine it for himself and judge accordingly. He also states that one and one-half ounce of water (the amount prescribed) was put with the other ingredients. I should like to ask how he knows this to be the fact. He certainly did not put it in, as he should have done, but left it to the father of the child to put in when he got home, at the same time knowing that Mr. H. could necessarily have had no "distilled water," the article prescribed, and also recklessly leaving the amount to be put in by saying "fill the vial," which Mr. H. did. Now when you couple this with the fact that the capacity of the vial given Mr. H. was one-third greater than the amount prescribed you throw a responsibility upon the shoulders of Mr. Eltinge that few druggists in the preparation of prescriptions would be willing to take. I do not wish to judge harshly of Mr. E.; he is young in the business, and may not have been properly prepared for his responsible duties; but of this I do judge—that his "statement," as it is called, is simply a silly effort to shift responsibility in this case from his own shoulders to those of another, and mine evidently being the ones aimed at I most decidedly object, considering the effort as contemptible, as the evidence of his connection with the prescription is that of ignorance, stupidity and a willful neglect of duty.

Very respectfully,

R. LOUGHRAN, M. D.

A HINT TO HOUSEWIVES.—HOW TO KEEP KITCHEN WARE CLEAN AND BRIGHT.—Every housewife of neat and tidy habits takes especial delight in keeping all the tin, copper and iron ware of her kitchen as clean and bright as painstaking labor can make them. A pride in this direction is commendable, and always meets the smiling approval of the "tyrant man" who pays the household bills. Remember that SAPOLIO is the only thing on earth that will make an old tarnished tin pan or a rusty kettle shine as bright as new. And by the use of Sapolio it is the quickest and easiest thing in the world to keep every utensil in a high state of polish.

American Star Cement.

Cure for Piles.

Vincent's Magic pile remedy is the most perfect cure for Parites or itching Piles ever offered to the public. It is warranted to give relief to the worst cases in forty-eight hours after the commencement of its use, if the directions for using are complied with. Price 50 cents per box. G. E. Vincent, Proprietor, Catskill, N. Y. At Wholesale and Retail by Van Deusen Brothers.

CATARRH.—Use Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil freely on the forehead and nose, externally, and also inhale the strong odor of the oil from a cloth, time after time, to act on the mucus membrane, cleansing and healing; and also mix the Magic Oil with water, and gargle the throat often. Try this for a few days, it don't cost much. Sold by R. Deyo and all druggists in Rondout and Kingston.

Fruit.

The HUGUENOT SALOON has started the ball rolling for the season's trade in the very finest Peaches, Dutchess Pears, Grapes and Plums. Orders left at the Huguenot will be faithfully attended to. Good, well-selected ripe fruit is always better and cheaper than common, dried up stuff, at any price. Peaches wholesale and retail.

Pianos.

I am prepared to furnish Pianos and Organs of any manufacturer at a reduced price; also second-hand Pianos for sale or rent.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
To its Natural Vitality and Color.

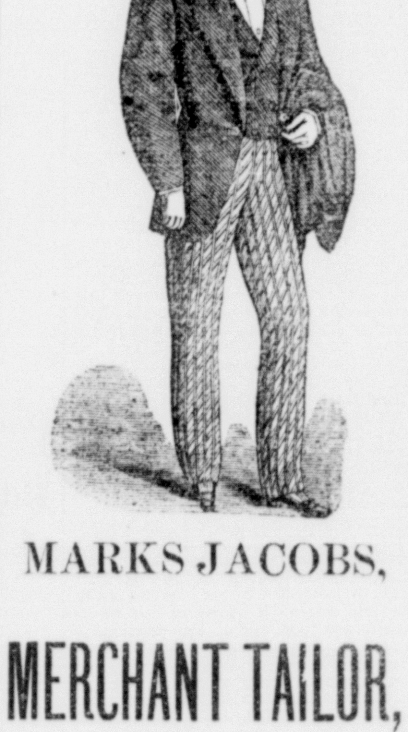

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—There were hosts of pretty maidens at St. Mary's church pic-nic in O'Reilly's grove yesterday,—and good clothes? My, though!

—Soon after the sun shone forth yesterday Union avenue was crowded with people going to the pic-nic.

—The pupils in our public schools are counting the days which are to elapse before trouble commences.

—Mill street was the scene of a combat between a cock and a pigeon yesterday, and the pigeon caused the other bird to skedaddle.

—There was a soiree musicale in John Schnitzler's yesterday afternoon. Some chap was calling forth the most lugubriou strains from a cracked fiddle.

—That Poughkeepsie Bridge must be so arranged that cars can have their load of coal dumped into the holds of vessels, giving them instant dispatch, for no sail vessel was lading coal in the creek yesterday, though there were some barges taking in black diamonds, and an occasional sail craft could be seen loading cement, blue stone, lime, &c., with now and then a barge filling up with ice for the New York market.

Religious.

Rev. Dr. Farr of Albany will preach in the East Front street M. E. Church on Sunday, Aug. 17th, morning and evening.

Good Mr. Toucey.

Travelers on the Hudson River Railroad will be delighted to learn that the annoyance lately experienced by them from the visitations of venders of prize packages of candy and pop-corn has been stopped by a stringent order from Mr. Toucey, the Superintendent of the road, forbidding the sale of those articles. Good Mr. Toucey!

Personal.

McD. Van Wagoner, an attache of The Freeman, has gone to some unknown (to us) region to rusticate for a few days. We will probably be advised of some of Mac's doings during his absence from Kingston.

A number of our city pleasure seekers who left for Long Branch during Wednesday and Thursday had a tempestuous journey.

Tableaux.

A young lady from this city who is visiting friends at Hillsborough, Province of New Brunswick, in writing home gives an account of a strawberry festival in that cool land, at which some young ladies were to give tableaux, and just before the curtain was to rise upon the first one a native was heard to ask "how is it you eat them tableaux, any way?"

Coal Arrival.

Yesterday 40 canal boats laden with 5,098 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware & Hudson canal.

Owing to the late storms, the streams between this city and High Falls were so much swollen no boats were locked through the canal, between the above named places, during Thursday night, which accounts for the small amount of coal which arrived yesterday.

What's the Matter?

The Rondout Freeman of Wednesday was received at the post-office last night, and none of yesterday's came to hand. Why is this thusly?—Po'keepsie Eagle.

Must be some oversight in the post-office down there, Bridge-it; the paper is mailed regularly every morning. The Eagle miss quilts very often also, and then we're unhappy.

Complimentary.

We do not hesitate in asserting that the Rondout Daily Freman is the ablest edited daily exchange upon our list outside of New York city. Its editorials are the production of exalted, liberal and go-ahead minds, while its local news exhibit enterprise, wit and good judgment. We would like to know the names of the men who compose its editorial and its reporting staff.—Port Jervis Evening Gazette.

To the Evening Gazette we make our best bow as we thank them for the compliment.

Serious Accident.

A man named Cramer on Friday engaged a horse and wagon for the purpose of visiting some lots he had recently purchased near Kingston, on the Saugerties road. When near the residence of Mr. Calkins the horse run away and Mr. Cramer was thrown out and very severely injured, several of his ribs being broken and an arm terribly torn. We have learned no further particulars.

Accident to a Wilbur Sloop.

The Newburgh Telegraph says: "The sloop C. Hadden, of Wilbur, while passing this city on Thursday afternoon, met with an accident when opposite the Long Dock; she attempted to tack and come about on the other tack, but was caught by a flaw of wind, and before she could turn her boom broke in the centre and fell overboard, carrying the sail and part of the rigging with it. A man immediately went out on the floating mass and after several duckings succeeded in cutting the broken timber loose, when the sloop went off down the river."

The Hurley Bridge.

The Hurley folks are in trouble with the man who has taken the contract to repair the suspension bridge. The contractor is Horace Maxon, and it is claimed by the Commissioner that he is not doing the work according to contract. Maxon was to receive $1,500 for doing the work; $1,000 to be paid down, the remaining $500 to be paid when the work is completed. The Commissioner don't know whether it is best to get out an injunction and put a stop to the work or refuse to pay over the $500 until the job has been completed according to contract.

Level-headed.

From the Delaware Express we copy the following remarks concerning a level-headed man hereabouts: "There is at least one level-headed man in Ulster county. He has been collecting some small bills, and finds money just about as plenty as usual. He says if people wouldn't swallow this eternal palaver about 'money being so tight,' there wouldn't be half so much trouble. But when folks hear that money is scarce and hard to get, each one freezes to what he has got—puts it in old stockings and wallets and hides it away—and don't start it in circulation until the scare works off."

Fiendish Work.

On Wednesday, Aug. 6th, says the New Paltz Independent, some unprincipled, crime-loving scoundrels heaped a great pile of fence rails and railroad ties upon the trestlework of the Wallkill Valley Railway at Hickory Bush. A frightful accident was prevented by the timely discovery of the obstruction by some gentlemen a short time before the train came along. The atrocity of the deed may be imagined when we assert that, had not the impediment been removed, a whole train, with a large number of passengers, would have been precipitated in an instant about thirty feet, landing upon a yielding mass of marshy land, which would inevitably swallow up a train before it could be rescued.

Election of Officers.

At a regular meeting of Mechanics' Lodge, No. 673, I. O. of G. T., of South Rondout, Aug. 6th, 1873, the following officers were installed for the ensuing quarter by Wm. Bates, Lodge Deputy:

W. C. T., Isaac N. Seymour; W. V. T., Miss Mary Hotaling; Sec., E. M. Carter; F. Sec., Albert Hotaling; Treas., Wm. Bates; Chaplain, F. M. Pruden; Mar., D. C. Hotaling; O. G., M. G. Hotaling; I. G., Miss Sarah Hyde; Ass't. Sec., Emerson Love; Dep. Mar., Mrs. M. G. Hotaling; R. H. S., Miss Laura Lynch; L. H. S., Miss Addie Love.

Oh, Dear!

We understand that the latest man bearing a resemblance to President Grant is at the West End Hotel, the Rev. James Byron Murray, of Roundout, N. Y., the Grand Chaplain of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of that state. He is well known among Masons as a most eloquent and fascinating speaker.—Long Branch Daily News.

The air at Long Branch, or the "tod" at that famous summer resort, must have the same effect as opium on the brain of the gentle spirit who presides over the columns of the Long Branch Daily News, or he is as hungry for items as the sea is for bathers. The Rev. Mr. Murray looks about as much like Grant as a snapping-turtle looks like the celebrated racer Longfellow. Perhaps, though, Mr. Murray, since leaving Roundout and reaching Long Branch, has

"Suffered a sea change
Into something rich and strange."

Boots.

That winged god, the Middletown Mercury, drops the following dreadful hand-grenade into our office:

"The "new hand" on the Freeman boastingly informs the public that he wears number 8 boots. And the public wonders why in nature so broad a foundation should have been laid for so slight a structure."

We said shoes, not boots, but Mercury scatters too much to make distinctions. So "the public wonders" does it, sweet soles? Permit us to intimate that it cannot marvel much to see the Mercury man going about in the diminutive foot-gear of some defunct Chinese woman. Cause why? The "public" recognizes the correctness of the principle set forth in the lines above quoted, and admits that extremities should correspond.

Hard at It.

Whatever complaints may come from other sources of "dull times" and "slack business," it does not seem that our boat builders are allowed time to open their mouths to give vent to any such cry. From the different yards along the creek come the ring of the mallet and the thud of the axe, the thump of the hammer as the spikes are driven home and the many sounds of active toil. A visit to the yard of Messrs. J. & J. McCausland shows that enterprising firm about as busy as it is possible for them to be, and the lively way in which the chips fly and the tar burns and the men move about suggests the thought that their reputation for thorough work and square dealing is bringing them a sure return, a fresh illustration that "virtue is its own reward." The yard now contains two of the large 600-ton barges, of which the firm has the contract for building a number, some of which have already been completed. The two now on the stocks are nearly finished and will soon be ready for launching—and then for a big time. Besides this new work, the barge Seymour has just had the finishing touches of extensive repairs put on, a sloop for Messrs. Fitch, the Wilbur stone dealers, and the sloop Ben Aken have been or are receiving a large amount of attention at the hands of the firm. The propellor Eagle is awaiting her turn and when she sails out after the work has been done she will astonish those who knew her before. The firm have about fifty men at work and keep them all on the go.

Along the River.

On Thursday morning a deck hand on the steamer Alida discovered the body of a colored man floating in the river near the foot of South Lansing street in Albany. The head of the drowned man was badly bruised, there being an extensive cut over the right eye. On his person were found a key, a dollar and five cents in money, and a picture of a colored woman.

Pleasure seekers from Saratoga, Lake George, Sharon Springs, &c., are beginning to return cityward, as is seen by the crowded state of the Albany night boats bound down, while those going up the river carry comparatively few passengers. The day boats Chauncy Vibbard and Daniel Drew continue to maintain their popularity with pleasure tourists. The Daniel Drew is a great favorite with our citizens, being commanded by Captain Ferdinan Frost, formerly of the Mary Powell, and catered for by Mr. Abram Van Woert, of this city.

A party of Albany ruffians who accompanied the Iron Moulders' Union excursion to Coxsackie on Monday last, attempted, with drawn knives, to obtain possession of the bar and kitchen of the Ferry Hotel in the last named place, but found they were dealing with people determined to assert their rights, as Mr. Losee, son-in-law and daughter soon forced them to beat a hasty retreat. We are delighted to learn that more than one of the ruffins required surgical treatment before their return. The inmates of the hotel are entitled to credit for resisting the onslaught of the cowardly set, who, by this time, have learned a lesson which they will not soon forget.

Assumption of the Blessed Virgin.

Yesterday occurred the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, which is a festival in the Roman Catholic Church, and a holy day of obligation, during which all persons who could refrained from work. Masses were celebrated in all the churches holding that faith in this city, as there were in such churches all the wide world over. The Bishop of this diocese issued a circular on the subject which was read in the three Catholic churches in this city on Sunday last. The circular read as follows:—"In order to incite the faithful throughout the world to more earnest and united prayer for the deliverance of the church from the bonds of her oppressors, the Holy Father grants a plenary indulgence to all who join in a tridnum, or three days' devotion, preparatory to the festival of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, reciting the litany of those three days, approaching the sacraments of Penance and the Holy Eucharist, within the same time, or on the festival. To those who say the litany with the intention of the Holy Father on any of these days, and perform the other conditions, an indulgence of seven years is granted."

In connection with the religious exercises in the churches there was a pic-nic given by the congregation of St. Mary's church in Mr. John O'Reilly's grove, which was attended by a large concourse of people, notwithstanding the unpleasant state of the weather, up to four o'clock, when it cleared away, and for so laudable an object, we could have wished to see it wearing its most favorable aspect during the entire day. The St. Mary's T. A. B. Society attended the pic-nic in a body, and before marching to the grove made the tour of the principal streets in the lower portion of the city, headed by Goeller's band, which discoursed the sweet strains of our national and Irish airs. At the grove dancing, competing in various Irish games for prizes, and social recreation of different characters were indulged in, beside partaking of the abundant refreshments which had been provided. It was not until the evening shades prevailed that the happy assemblage in the grove broke up, each individual well pleased with the day's innocent enjoyment.

Sagendorf vs. VanGaasbeck—Great Cabbage Head Suit.

A great cabbage head suit is soon to be tried uptown. We don't wish to have it supposed that this case is brought to determine which one of the litigants, plaintiff or defendant, is the biggest cabbage head. Neither would we have it understood this is a trial to settle the question of superiority of attorneys in regard to the question of cabbage heads, and we would distinctly have it known that this case has not been brought to determine whether the court is or is not a cabbage head. On the contrary, the action has been brought to recover the value of one thousand cabbage heads the plaintiff claims to have delivered to defendant. The defendant refuses to pay, claiming the cabbage heads were not in a marketable condition. All dealers in cabbage heads should attend this trial, for during its progress the value of cabbages, the large headed, the small headed, the soft headed and the Voorhees cabbage will be distinctly determined by renowned experts in cabbage heads. The case, no doubt, will be an interesting one, and is to be tried in 'Squire Chipp's court. The attorneys are D. W. Sparling for plaintiff, and George Van Etten for defendant. S. T. Hull of counsel for defendant.

KINGSTON, August 9th, 1873.

To the President, Directors and Stockholders of the Kingston & Rondout Horse Railroad:

GENTLEMEN—I wish to state publicly to you through the columns of The Daily Freeman that I will give you 7 per cent. on the cost of the road you are now running for the use of it for a term of ten years, and will give you good and sufficient security for the payment of the money, together with the rolling stock, horses, &c. Each party to inventory the stock, &c., with two good reliable men, and also a written contract that I shall be bound to return cars, horses, &c., in as good order as when I got them. I will buy the rolling stock, horses &c., and will keep the track in repair and return it in as good a condition as when I got it. I shall leave this open for acceptance for the term of thirty days. I mean business. Address

CARD FROM DR. LOUGHRAN.

The Death of the Holmes Child.

KINGSTON, August 15th, 1873.

EDITOR OF DAILY FREEMAN—

Sir:—I had hoped that I should not be obliged to enter into the paper controversy going on in regard to the unfortunate death of the little son of Hiram Holmes. But what appears to be a statement of Mr. Eltinge in this morning's Freeman requires a word from me. Mr. Eltinge says that "Dr. Loughran, the attending physician, remarked both before and after the dose was administered that the child could not recover." This statement is simply false. On the contrary, I stated to the mother on my visit to the child the evening preceding its death, that the acute symptoms of its disease (cholera infantum) having abated, I had hopes of its recovery; that could it get the necessary rest and sleep (it not having had either for the past forty-eight hours) during the night, I should expect to find it better in the morning, and she was the only one I spoke to in regard to it. In the morning after its death I visited the drug store of Eltinge & Perrine and saw Mr. Perrine, and after investigating what I wished in regard to the preparation of the prescription, and giving him my opinion in regard to the child's death, I remarked that possibly it might have died had no mistake been made. This opinion I had also given to its father and mother, wishing of course to assuage their feelings as far as possible. And this is the only basis that Mr. E. has for stating that I had said that the child "could not recover." If Mr. E. will take the trouble to recollect he had further and more positive evidence that what he states was false. On a personal interview with him yesterday morning he received my opinion most emphatically as to the cause of the child's death, and if not yet satisfied a second call may convince him. In reference to his explanation as to how the prescription was made up, he admits that he not only made a mistake in its ingredients but also as to the amount, not seeming to think that this was more reprehensible than the other, for it must have been done with knowledge; the prescription being before him, he could or should not make a mistake. The fact is that the change was made purposely and the remark made to a person standing by that one-half the amount of this article was about equivalent to the whole of the one prescribed, or words to that effect. He also states that he substituted the "diluted tincture of camphor for the pure tincture." Of what this "diluted tincture" is composed he may have a special knowledge. I confess to ignorance. If it is the "pure" diluted with water, then he confesses to ignorance of the common effect of water on camphor dissolved in alcohol, as the "pure tincture" is the water separating the alcohol and camphor uniting with the former, leaving the camphor floating on top, which is no tincture of camphor at all and of course should not be put up as such. If he means that there was less camphor in the "diluted" than in the "pure" he still has present the same amount of alcohol as in the "pure," which in a child of that age, given in that dose kills as quickly and as surely as though it was mixed with the camphor. But the evidence in the article itself put up by Eltinge is too clear to admit of a doubt that the material given was "pure" tincture of camphor and that in the full amount prescribed for the "aqua camphor," viz., 4 drachms, of which, if there is any doubt, let such person call at my office, examine it for himself and judge accordingly. He also states that one and one-half ounce of water (the amount prescribed) was put with the other ingredients. I should like to ask how he knows this to be the fact. He certainly did not put it in, as he should have done, but left it to the father of the child to put in when he got home, at the same time knowing that Mr. H. could necessarily have had no "distilled water," the article prescribed, and also recklessly leaving the amount to be put in by saying "fill the vial," which Mr. H. did. Now when you couple this with the fact that the capacity of the vial given Mr. H. was one-third greater than the amount prescribed you throw a responsibility upon the shoulders of Mr. Eltinge that few druggists in the preparation of prescriptions would be willing to take. I do not wish to judge harshly of Mr. E.; he is young in the business, and may not have been properly prepared for his responsible duties; but of this I do judge—that his "statement," as it is called, is simply a silly effort to shift responsibility in this case from his own shoulders to those of another, and mine evidently being the ones aimed at I most decidedly object, considering the effort as contemptible, as the evidence of his connection with the prescription is that of ignorance, stupidity and a willful neglect of duty.

Very respectfully,
R. LOUGHRAN, M. D.

A HINT TO HOUSEWIVES.—HOW TO KEEP KITCHEN WARE CLEAN AND BRIGHT.—Every housewife of neat and tidy habits takes especial delight in keeping all the tin, copper and iron ware of her kitchen as clean and bright as painstaking labor can make them. A pride in this direction is commendable, and always meets the smiling approval of the "tyrant man" who pays the household bills. Remember that SAPOLIO is the only thing on earth that will make an old tarnished tin pan or a rusty kettle shine as bright as new. And by the use of Sapolio it is the quickest and easiest thing in the world to keep every utensil in a high state of polish.

American Star Cement.

Wm. Bucks is now canvassing this city with the American Star Cement—an excellent article for mending wood, bone, ivory, china, glass and stone ware. Residence at Mrs. Weed's, Abeel street.

Cure for Piles.

Vincent's Magic pile remedy is the most perfect cure for Purites or itching Piles ever offered to the public. It is warranted to give relief to the worst cases in forty-eight hours after the commencement of its use, if the directions for using are complied with. Price 50 cents per box. G. E. Vincent, Proprietor, Catskill, N. Y. At Wholesale and Retail by Van Deusen Brothers.

CATARRH.—Use Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil freely on the forehead and nose, externally, and also inhale the strong odor of the oil from a cloth, time after time, to act on the mucus membrane, cleansing and healing; and also mix the Magic Oil with water, and gargle the throat often. Try this for a few days, it don't cost much. Sold by R. Deyo and all druggists in Rondout and Kingston.

Fruit.

The HUGUENOT SALOON has started the ball rolling for the season's trade in the very finest Peaches, Dutchess Pears, Grapes and Plums. Orders left at the Huguenot will be faithfully attended to. Good, well-selected ripe fruit is always better and cheaper than common, dried up stuff, at any price. Peaches wholesale and retail.

Pianos.

I am prepared to furnish Pianos and Organs of any manufacturer at a reduced price; also second-hand Pianos for sale or rent.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
To its Natural Vitality and Color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty.—Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.
As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

STATE OF NEW YORK.—OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, Albany, July 29, 1873.—To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster SIR:—Notice is hereby given that, at the General Election to be held in this State on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November next, the following officers are to be elected, to-wit: A Secretary of State, in the place of G. Hilton Scribner; a Comptroller, in the place of Nelson K. Hopkins; a Treasurer, in the place of Thomas Raines; an Attorney-General, in the place of Francis C. Barlow; a State Engineer and Surveyor, in the place of William B. Taylor; a Canal Commissioner, in the place of John D. Fay; an Inspector of State Prisons, in the place of Solomon Scheu; all whose terms of office will expire on the last day of December next. Also, a Justice of the Supreme Court for the Third Judicial District in the place of Peter S. Danforth, whose term of office will expire on the last day of December next. Also, a Senator for the Fourteenth Senate District, comprising the counties of Greene and Ulster.

COUNTY OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED.

Three Members of Assembly; a Sheriff, in the place of John W. Kerr, a County Clerk in the place of Charles W. Deyo; a Superintendent of the Poor, in the place of Benjamin J. Winne; two Justices of Sessions, in the place of John D. Merrihew and Philip Schryver; two Coroners, in the place of Charles Stephan and John Van Nostrand; all whose terms will expire on the last day of December next.

The attention of Inspectors of Election and County Canvassers is directed to Chap. 314 of Laws of 1873, a copy of which is printed herewith, entitled: "An Act to provide for submitting to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, the question whether the offices of Chief Judge and Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals, of Justices of the Supreme Court, of the Judge of the Superior Court of the city of New York, of the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the city and county of New York, of the Judge of the Superior Court of Buffalo, of the Judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the County Judge of the several counties of this State, shall be hereafter filled by appointment, pursuant to section seventeen, article six, of the constitution," for instructions in regard to their duties under said act.

CHAP. 314.

AN ACT to provide for submitting to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, the question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, of justices of the supreme court, of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall be hereafter filled by appointment, pursuant to section seventeen, article six, of the constitution.

Passed April 26, 1873; three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, the justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior court of the city of New York, of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New-York, of the superior court of Buffalo, of the city court of Brooklyn, and the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall hereafter be filled by appointment, shall be submitted to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November next, as provided in section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

§ 2. The inspectors of election in each election district in the State shall provide two boxes, in which they shall deposit the ballots of the electors upon the question whether the judges and justices of the several courts named in the first section of this act shall hereafter be filled by appointment. One of said boxes shall be labeled "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court." The other one shall be labeled "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts." Each citizen entitled to vote at such election may vote two ballots, as follows: One of them shall be endorsed "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals, and of the justices of the supreme court," "and shall contain on the inside, when folded, the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—No;" and all such ballots shall be deposited in the boxes labeled "appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and justices of the supreme court." The other of said ballots shall be indorsed "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts," and on the inside, when folded, shall contain the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—No." And all such ballots shall be deposited in the box labeled "appointment or election of the judges of the city and county courts."

§ 3. The inspectors of election in each election district, after the closing of the polls of such election, shall count and canvass separately the ballots deposited in each of the said boxes in the manner prescribed by law in reference to other elections, and shall ascertain the whole number of ballots upon each of the questions to be submitted as aforesaid. The inspectors, after having so counted said ballots, shall set down in writing the whole number of such ballots upon each question, and the whole number for and against each of the said questions, and shall certify and make return of the said several votes in the same manner as prescribed by law in reference to other ballots at a general election.

§ 4. The votes so given shall be canvassed by the several boards of county canvassers at the next meeting thereof after such election, and the aggregate results in the several counties shall be canvassed and certified by the board of State canvassers. The existing laws in reference to a general election shall in all respects, so far as applicable, apply to and regulate the proceedings and duties of the said board of county and State canvassers, and of the county clerks and secretary of State. From the statements made to the board of State canvassers it shall determine whether a majority of the votes upon the questions submitted to the electors of the State, as herein provided, be in the affirmative or negative. The said board shall make a certificate of such determination and shall deliver the same to the secretary of State, who shall file the same in his office.

§ 5. If a majority of all the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court" shall be in the affirmative, then the said officers shall not after said election be elective, but, as vacancies occur, they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate when next convened and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if the majority of said ballots so endorsed be in the negative, then the said officers shall be elective, as heretofore. If a majority of the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of judges of city and county courts" shall contain on the inside the question as hereinbefore provided, answered in the affirmative, then the said officers mentioned in the said question shall not after said election be elective, but as vacancies occur they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate, when next convened, and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if a majority of the ballots so indorsed shall be answered in the negative, then the said officers shall be elected as heretofore.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to cause the said questions, together with the forms of the ballots as herein specified, to be published in two or more newspapers in each of the counties of this state, the same number of times prior to the said election as is now required by law to be published of the officers to be elected and the offices to be filled at such election; such newspapers to be designated by the Secretary of State in the manner now provided by law for designating newspapers to publish election notices; but no neglect or failure to publish or informality of publication shall impair the validity of such election.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to include in and cause to be published with the election notices for the said general election, a notice in substance and effect as follows: "Pursuant to section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, two questions will be submitted to the electors of this State, to be voted upon separate ballots, as follows: 1st. Shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, and of justice of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment. 2d, Shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, and the judge of the county courts of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment." And at such election each elector will be entitled to vote separately for or against each of said questions, and if a majority of the votes shall be in the affirmative of said questions, then the said judges and justices therein referred to, after said election, as vacancies occur, will be appointed by the governor, as provided by law. No failure or omission to give notice, or any informality in the notice or the giving thereof, shall impair the validity of such notice, or the election herein provided for.

§ 8. This act shall take effect immediately.

Yours Respectfully,
G. HILTON SCRIBNER,
Secretary of State.

ULSTER COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE, KINGSTON, August 4, 1873.

Pursuant to the above notice from the Secretary of State, Notice is hereby given that at the General Election to be held in this State on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday in November next (November 4th), the following officers are to be elected, to-wit:

A Secretary of State, in the place of G. Hilton Scribner; a Comptroller, in the place of Nelson K. Hopkins; a Treasurer, in the place of Thomas Raines; an Attorney-General, in the place of Francis C. Barlow; a State Engineer and Surveyor, in the place of William B. Taylor; a Canal Commissioner, in the place of John D. Fay; and Inspector of State Prisons, in the place of Solomon Scheu; all whose terms of office will expire on the last day of December next. Also a Justice of the Supreme Court for the Third Judicial District in the place of Peter S. Danforth, whose terms of office will expire on the last day of December next. Also a Senator for the Fourteenth Senate District, comprising the counties of Greene and Ulster.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER

JURUBEBA

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to article ten of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article ten of the constitution be amended by adding at the end thereof an additional section as follows:

§ 9. No officer whose salary is fixed by the constitution shall receive any additional compensation.—Each of the other state officers named in the constitution shall, during his continuance in office, receive a compensation, to be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected or appointed; nor shall he receive to his use any fees or perquisites of office or other compensation.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 22, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article six of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That section eighteen of article six of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 18. The electors of the several towns shall at their annual town meeting, and in such manner as the legislature may direct, elect justices of the peace, whose term of office shall be four years. In case of an election to fill a vacancy occurring before the expiration of a full term, they shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term. Their number and classification may be regulated by law. Justices of the peace and judges or justices of inferior courts, not of record, and their clerks, may be removed after due notice and an opportunity to be heard by such courts as may be prescribed by law for causes to be assigned in the order of removal. Judicial officers of courts, not of record, in the several cities of the state having a population of not less than three hundred thousand, shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, for a term of four years, and shall be subject to removal after due notice and an opportunity of being heard by such courts as may be prescribed by law for causes to be assigned in the order of removal. All other judicial officers in cities, whose election is not otherwise provided for in this article, shall be chosen by the electors of cities or appointed by some local authorities thereof.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election for senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to the constitution relative to funding the canal and general fund debts now charged on the canals.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the following amendment to the constitution be proposed for adoption to the people of the state, viz.:

ARTICLE —.

The commissioners of the canal fund shall borrow, on the credit of the state, such sums as may be necessary for paying the canal and general fund debts now charged on the canals, as the same shall fall due, by the issue and sale of bonds, or certificates of stock, having forty years to run from their date, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, for the payment of the principal whereof at maturity a sinking fund of one per cent per annum shall be established, and the tolls of the canals shall be fixed from time to time by the canal board at rates sufficing, as near as may be, to provide only for said sinking fund the interest on the debt so created, the expenses of collection, superintendence and keeping the canals in repair; and the contribution so created for said sinking fund shall be invested annually by the comptroller in the bonds or certificates of stock authorized by this article, or in the stocks or bonds of the state of New York or of the United States, which shall be held for the redemption and payment of the bonds or certificates herein authorized to be issued and sacredly applied to that purpose; all of said debt and interest shall be paid from the revenues of the canals, and no direct tax shall ever be levied or collected for canal purposes, either for current expenses or repairs, ordinary or extraordinary.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur) That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article twelve of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That article twelve of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

§ 1. Members of the legislature (and all officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as shall be by law exempted), shall, before they enter on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation; "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of the state of New York, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of ______ according to the best of my ability," and all such officers who shall have been chosen at any election shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the oath of affirmation above prescribed, together with the following addition thereto, as part thereof; "And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly or indirectly paid offered or promised to pay, contributed or offered or promised to contribute, any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding of a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office, and have not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote," and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to article eight of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article eight of the constitution be amended, by amending section four thereof, so as to read as follows:

§ 4. The legislature shall, by general law, conform all charters of savings banks, or institutions for savings, to a uniformity of powers, rights and liabilities, and all charters hereafter granted for such corporations shall be made to conform to such general law, and to such amendments as may be made thereto. And no such corporation shall have any capital stock, or shall the trustees thereof, or any of them have any interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the profits of such corporation; and no director or trustee of any such bank or institution shall be interested in any loan or use of money or property of such bank or institution for savings. The legislature shall have no power to pass any act granting any special charter for banking purposes; but corporations or associations may be formed for such purposes under general laws.

And further, by adding thereto additional sections to be known as sections ten and eleven, as follows:

§ 10. Neither the credit nor the money of the state shall be given or loaned to or in aid of any association, corporation or private undertaking. This section shall not, however, prevent the legislature from making such provision for the education and support of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and juvenile delinquents, as it may seem proper. Nor shall it apply to any fund or property now held or which may hereafter be held by the state for educational purposes.

§ 11. No county, city, town, or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit, to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become, directly or indirectly, the owner of stock in or bonds of any association or corporation, nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness, except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provisions for the aid or support of its poor, as may be authorized by law.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to the constitution by adding additional articles to be as known articles fifteen and sixteen, as follows:

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. Any person holding office under the laws of this state, who, except in payment of his legal salary, fees or perquisites, shall receive or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, anything of value or of personal advantage, or the promise thereof, for performing or omitting to perform any official act, or with the express or implied understanding that his official act or omission to act is to be in any degree influenced thereby, shall be deemed guilty of a felony. This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe, if it be rejected by the officer to whom it is tendered, shall be deemed guilty of an attempt to bribe, which is hereby declared to be a felony.

§ 3. Any person charged with receiving a bribe, or with offering or promising a bribe, shall be permitted to testify in his own behalf in any civil or criminal prosecution therefor.

§ 4. Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provision of this article which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defence. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county in investigating and proving any charge of bribery, or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this state, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and their payment by the state shall be provided for by law.

ARTICLE XVI.

SECTION 1. All amendments to the constitution shall be in force from and including the first day of January succeeding the election at which the same were adopted, except when otherwise provided by such amendments.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 29, 1873. The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following:

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

By order, J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article two of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one and two of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of the state one year next preceding any election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to a vote of the people, provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from any election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

§ 2. No person who shall receive, expect or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager, depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing, as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or any infamous crime.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governer and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (If the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense.

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senate only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur). That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK.—OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, Albany, July 29, 1873.—To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster SIR:—Notice is hereby given that, at the General Election to be held in this State on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November next, the following officers are to be elected, to-wit: A Secretary of State, in the place of G. Hilton Scribner; a Comptroller, in the place of Nelson K. Hopkins; a Treasurer, in the place of Thomas Raines; an Attorney-General, in the place of Francis C. Barlow; a State Engineer and Surveyor, in the place of William B. Taylor; a Canal Commissioner, in the place of John D. Fay; an Inspector of State Prisons, in the place of Solomon Scheu; all whose terms of office will expire on the last day of December next. Also, a Justice of the Supreme Court for the Third Judicial District in the place of Peter S. Danforth, whose term of office will expire on the last day of December next. Also, a Senator for the Fourteenth Senate District, comprising the counties of Greene and Ulster.

COUNTY OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED.

Three Members of Assembly; a Sheriff, in the place of John W. Kerr, a County Clerk in the place of Charles W. Deyo; a Superintendent of the Poor, in the place of Benjamin J. Winne: two Justices of Sessions, in the place of John D. Merrihew and Philip Schryver; two Coroners, in the place of Charles Stephan and John Van Nostrand; all whose terms will expire on the last day of December next.

The attention of Inspectors of Election and County Canvassers is directed to Chap. 314 of Laws of 1873, a copy of which is printed herewith, entitled: "An Act to provide for submitting to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, the question whether the offices of Chief Judge and Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals, of Justices of the Supreme Court, of the Judge of the Superior Court of the city of New York, of the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the city and county of New York, of the Judge of the Superior Court of Buffalo, of the Judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the County Judge of the several counties of this State, shall be hereafter filled by appointment, pursuant to section seventeen, article six, of the constitution," for instructions in regard to their duties under said act.

CHAP. 314.

AN ACT to provide for submitting to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, the question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, of justices of the supreme court, of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall be hereafter filled by appointment, pursuant to section seventeen, article six, of the constitution.

Passed April 26, 1873; three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The question whether the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, the justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior court of the city of New York, of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New-York, of the superior court of Buffalo, of the city court of Brooklyn, and the county judge of the several counties of this State, shall hereafter be filled by appointment, shall be submitted to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November next, as provided in section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

§ 2. The inspectors of election in each election district in the State shall provide two boxes, in which they shall deposit the ballots of the electors upon the question whether the judges and justices of the several courts named in the first section of this act shall hereafter be filled by appointment. One of said boxes shall be labeled "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court." The other one shall be labeled "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts." Each citizen entitled to vote at such election may vote two ballots, as follows: One of them shall be endorsed "appointment or election of the chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals, and of the justices of the supreme court," "and shall contain on the inside, when folded, the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals and of the justices of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment—No;" and all such ballots shall be deposited in the boxes labeled "appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and justices of the supreme court." The other of said ballots shall be indorsed "appointment or election of judges of city and county courts," and on the inside, when folded, shall contain the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—Yes," or the words, "shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, of the judge of the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, of the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, of the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, of the county judge of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment—No." And all such ballots shall be deposited in the box labeled "appointment or election of the judges of the city and county courts."

§ 3. The inspectors of election in each election district, after the closing of the polls of such election, shall count and canvass separately the ballots deposited in each of the said boxes in the manner prescribed by law in reference to other elections, and shall ascertain the whole number of ballots upon each of the questions to be submitted as aforesaid. The inspectors, after having so counted said ballots, shall set down in writing the whole number of such ballots upon each question, and the whole number for and against each of the said questions, and shall certify and make return of the said several votes in the same manner as prescribed by law in reference to other ballots at a general election.

§ 4. The votes so given shall be canvassed by the several boards of county canvassers at the next meeting thereof after such election, and the aggregate results in the several counties shall be canvassed and certified by the board of State canvassers. The existing laws in reference to a general election shall in all respects, so far as applicable, apply to and regulate the proceedings and duties of the said board of county and State canvassers, and of the county clerks and secretary of State. From the statements made to the board of State canvassers it shall determine whether a majority of the votes upon the questions submitted to the electors of the State, as herein provided, be in the affirmative or negative. The said board shall make a certificate of such determination and shall deliver the same to the secretary of State, who shall file the same in his office.

§ 5. If a majority of all the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of chief judge and associate judges of the court of appeals and of justices of the supreme court" shall be in the affirmative, then the said officers shall not after said election be elective, but, as vacancies occur, they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate when next convened, and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if the majority of said ballots so endorsed be in the negative, then the said officers shall be elective, as heretofore. If a majority of the ballots indorsed "Appointment or election of judges of city and county courts" shall contain on the inside the question as hereinbefore provided, answered in the affirmative, then the said officers mentioned in the said question shall not after said election be elective, but as vacancies occur they shall be filled by appointment by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or if the senate be not in session, by the governor; but in such case he shall nominate to the senate, when next convened, and such appointment by the governor alone shall expire at the end of that session; but if a majority of the ballots so indorsed shall be answered in the negative, then the said officers shall be elected as heretofore.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to cause the said questions, together with the forms of the ballots as herein specified, to be published in two or more newspapers in each of the counties of this state, the same number of times prior to the said election as is now required by law to be published of the officers to be elected and the offices to be filled at such election; such newspapers to be designated by the Secretary of State in the manner now provided by law for designating newspapers to publish election notices; but no neglect or failure to publish or informality of publication shall impair the validity of such election.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the secretary of State to include in and cause to be published with the election notices for the said general election, a notice in substance and effect as follows: "Pursuant to section seventeen of article six of the constitution of this State, two questions will be submitted to the electors of this State, to be voted upon separate ballots, as follows: 1st. Shall the offices of chief judge and associate judge of the court of appeals, and of justice of the supreme court be hereafter filled by appointment. 2d, Shall the offices of the judge of the superior court of the city of New York, the court of common pleas of the city and county of New York, the judge of the superior court of Buffalo, the judge of the city court of Brooklyn, and the judge of the county courts of the several counties of this State be hereafter filled by appointment." And at such election each elector will be entitled to vote separately for or against each of said questions, and if a majority of the votes shall be in the affirmative of said questions, then the said judges and justices therein referred to, after said election, as vacancies occur, will be appointed by the governor, as provided by law. No failure or omission to give notice, or any informality in the notice or the giving thereof, shall impair the validity of such notice, or the election herein provided for.

§ 8. This act shall take effect immediately.

Yours Respectfully,
G. HILTON SCRIBNER,
Secretary of State.

ULSTER COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE, Kingston, August 4, 1873.

Pursuant to the above notice from the Secretary of State, Notice is hereby given that at the General Election to be held in this State on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday in November next (November 4th), the following officers are to be elected, to-wit:

A Secretary of State, in the place of G. Hilton Scribner; a Comptroller, in the place of Nelson K. Hopkins; a Treasurer, in the place of Thomas Raines; an Attorney-General, in the place of Francis C. Barlow; a State Engineer and Surveyor, in the place of William B. Taylor; a Canal Commissioner, in the place of John D. Fay; and Inspector of State Prisons, in the place of Solomon Scheu; all whose terms of office will expire on the last day of December next. Also a Justice of the Supreme Court for the Third Judicial District in the place of Peter S. Danforth, whose terms of office will expire on the last day of December next. Also a Senator for the Fourteenth Senate District, comprising the counties of Greene and Ulster.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER

JURUBEBA

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to article ten of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article ten of the constitution be amended by adding at the end thereof an additional section as follows:

§ 9. No officer whose salary is fixed by the constitution shall receive any additional compensation.—Each of the other state officers named in the constitution shall, during his continuance in office, receive a compensation, to be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected or appointed; nor shall he receive to his use any fees or perquisites of office or other compensation.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article six of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That section eighteen of article six of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 18. The electors of the several towns shall at their annual town meeting, and in such manner as the legislature may direct, elect justices of the peace, whose term of office shall be four years. In case of an election to fill a vacancy occurring before the expiration of a full term, they shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term. Their number and classification may be regulated by law. Justices of the peace and judges or justices of inferior courts, not of record, and their clerks, may be removed after due notice and an opportunity to be heard by such courts as may be prescribed by law for causes to be assigned in the order of removal. Judicial officers of courts, not of record, in the several cities of the state having a population of not less than three hundred thousand, shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, for a term of four years, and shall be subject to removal after due notice and an opportunity of being heard by such courts as may be prescribed by law for causes to be assigned in the order of removal. All other judicial officers in cities, whose election is not otherwise provided for in this article, shall be chosen by the electors of cities or appointed by some local authorities thereof.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election for senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to the constitution relative to funding the canal and general fund debts now charged on the canals.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the following amendment to the constitution be proposed for adoption to the people of the state, viz.:

ARTICLE —.

The commissioners of the canal fund shall borrow, on the credit of the state, such sums as may be necessary for paying the canal and general fund debts now charged on the canals, as the same shall fall due, by the issue and sale of bonds, or certificates of stock, having forty years to run from their date, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, for the payment of the principal whereof at maturity a sinking fund of one per cent per annum shall be established, and the tolls of the canals shall be fixed from time to time by the canal board at rates sufficing, as near as may be, to provide only for said sinking fund the interest on the debt so created, the expenses of collection, superintendence and keeping the canals in repair; and the contribution so created for said sinking fund shall be invested annually by the comptroller in the bonds or certificates of stock authorized by this article, or in the stocks or bonds of the state of New York or of the United States, which shall be held for the redemption and payment of the bonds or certificates herein authorized to be issued and sacredly applied to that purpose; all of said debt and interest shall be paid from the revenues of the canals, and no direct tax shall ever be levied or collected for canal purposes, either for current expenses or repairs, ordinary or extraordinary.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur) That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 1, 1873.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article twelve of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur], That article twelve of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

§ 1. Members of the legislature (and all officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as shall be by law exempted), shall, before they enter on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of the state of New York, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of according to the best of my ability," and all such officers who shall have been chosen at any election shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the oath of affirmation above prescribed, together with the following addition thereto, as part thereof; "And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly or indirectly paid offered or promised to pay, contributed or offered or promised to contribute, any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office, and have not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote," and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing an amendment to article eight of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That article eight of the constitution be amended, by amending section four thereof, so as to read as follows:

§ 4. The legislature shall, by general law, conform all charters of savings banks, or institutions for savings, to a uniformity of powers, rights and liabilities, and all charters hereafter granted for such corporations shall be made to conform to such general law, and to such amendments as may be made thereto. And no such corporation shall have any capital stock, or shall the trustees thereof, or any of them have any interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the profits of such corporation; and no director or trustee of any such bank or institution shall be interested in any loan or use of money or property of such bank or institution for savings. The legislature shall have no power to pass any act granting any special charter for banking purposes; but corporations or associations may be formed for such purposes under general laws.

And further, by adding thereto additional sections to be known as sections ten and eleven, as follows:

§ 10. Neither the credit nor the money of the state shall be given or loaned to or in aid of any association, corporation or private undertaking. This section shall not, however, prevent the legislature from making such provision for the education and support of the blind, the deaf and dumb, and juvenile delinquents, as to it may seem proper. Nor shall it apply to any fund or property now held or which may hereafter be held by the state for educational purposes.

§ 11. No county, city, town, or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit, to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become, directly or indirectly, the owner of stock in or bonds of any association or corporation, nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness, except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provisions for the aid or support of its poor, as may be authorized by law.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to the constitution by adding additional articles to be as known articles fifteen and sixteen, as follows:

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. Any person holding office under the laws of this state, who, except in payment of his legal salary, fees or perquisites, shall receive or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, anything of value or of personal advantage, or the promise thereof, for performing or omitting to perform any official act, or with the express or implied understanding that his official act or omission to act is to be in any degree influenced thereby, shall be deemed guilty of a felony. This section shall not affect the validity of any existing statutes in relation to the offence of bribery.

§ 2. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe to an officer, if it shall be received, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be liable to a punishment, except as herein provided. No person offering a bribe shall, upon any prosecution of the officer for receiving such bribe, be privileged from testifying in relation thereto, and he shall not be liable to civil or criminal prosecution therefor, if he shall testify to the giving or offering of such bribe. Any person who shall offer or promise a bribe, if it be rejected by the officer to whom it is tendered, shall be deemed guilty of an attempt to bribe, which is hereby declared to be a felony.

§ 3. Any person charged with receiving a bribe, or with offering or promising a bribe, shall be permitted to testify in his own behalf in any civil or criminal prosecution therefor.

§ 4. Any district attorney who shall fail faithfully to prosecute a person charged with the violation in his county of any provision of this article which may come to his knowledge, shall be removed from office by the governor, after due notice and an opportunity of being heard in his defence. The expenses which shall be incurred by any county in investigating and proving any charge of bribery, or attempting to bribe any person holding office under the laws of this state, within such county, or of receiving bribes by any such person in said county, shall be a charge against the state, and their payment by the state shall be provided for by law.

ARTICLE XVI.

SECTION 1. All amendments to the constitution shall be in force from and including the first day of January succeeding the election at which the same were adopted, except when otherwise provided by such amendments.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed,
By order,
CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 29, 1873. The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections three and six of article seven be amended as follows:

Section three to be amended by adding at the end of the section the following:

No extra compensation shall be made to any contractor; but if from any unforeseen cause, the terms of any contract shall prove to be unjust and oppressive, the canal board may, upon the application of the contractor, cancel such contract.

§ 6. The legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie canal, the Oswego canal, the Champlain canal, the Black River canal, or the Cayuga and Seneca canal; but they shall remain the property of the state and under its management forever. Hereafter the expenditure for collections, superintendence, ordinary and extraordinary repairs on the canals named in this section shall not exceed, in any year, their gross receipts for the previous year. All funds that may be derived from any lease, sale or other disposition of any canal shall be applied in payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are pledged.

That the following be added as sections thirteen and fourteen, in place of sections thirteen and fourteen of this article, which have been transferred and inserted as sections twenty-one and twenty-two of article three.

§ 13. The sinking funds provided for the payment of interest and extinguishment of the principal of the debts of the state, shall be separately kept and safely invested, and neither of them shall be appropriated or used in any manner other than for the specific purpose for which it shall have been provided.

§ 14. Neither the legislature, canal board, canal appraisers, nor any person or persons acting in behalf of the state, shall audit, allow or pay any claim which, as between citizens of the state, would be barred by lapse of time. The limitation of existing claims shall begin to run from the adoption of this section; but this provision shall not be construed to revive claims already barred by existing statutes, nor to repeal any statute fixing the time within which claims shall be presented or allowed, nor shall it extend to any claims duly presented within the time allowed by law, and prosecuted with due diligence from the time of such presentment. But if the claimant shall be under legal disability, the claim may be presented within two years after such disability is removed.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order,
CHAS. R. DAYTON, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Assembly, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.
By order, J. O'DONNELL, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article two of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one and two of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§ 1. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a citizen for ten days, and an inhabitant of the state one year next preceding any election, and for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and not elsewhere, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people, provided that, in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from any election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

§ 2. No person who shall receive, expect or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become, directly or indirectly, interested in any bet or wager, depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for such cause, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing, as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or any infamous crime.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity with section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 21, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article three of the constitution.

Resolved (if the assembly concur), That sections one, four, five, six, seven and eight of article three of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a senate and assembly.

§ 4. An enumeration of the inhabitants of the state shall be made under the direction of the legislature, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and in every tenth year thereafter.

§ 5. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and twenty-eight members elected for one year. The members of assembly shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state, by the legislature, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens, and shall be chosen by single districts. The assembly districts shall remain as at present organized until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five. The legislature, at its first session after the return of every enumeration, shall apportion the members of assembly among the several counties of the state, in manner aforesaid, and the board of supervisors in such counties as may be entitled under such apportionment to more than one member, except the city and county of New York, and in said city and county the board of aldermen of said city shall assemble at such times as the legislature making such apportionment shall prescribe and divide their respective counties into assembly districts, each of which districts shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory equal to the number of members of assembly to which such counties shall be entitled, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and the clerks of their respective counties a description of such districts, specifying the number of each district, and the population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration, as near as can be ascertained, and the apportionment and districts shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall be made as herein provided. No town shall be divided in the formation of assembly districts. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of the assembly, and no new county shall be hereafter erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, be entitled to a member. But the legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties. Nothing in this section shall prevent division at any time of counties and towns, and the erection of new towns and counties by the legislature.

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his service an annual salary of one thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session, on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 7. No member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state, or the senate of the United States, from the governor, the governor and senate, or from the legislature, or from any city government, during the time for which he shall have been elected; and all such appointments, and all votes given for any such member for any such office or appointment, shall be void.

§ 8. No person shall be eligible to the legislature who at the time of his election is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government. And if any person shall, after his election as a member of the legislature, be elected to congress or appointed to any office, civil or military under the government of the United States, or under any city government, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

And that the following additional sections be added to said article three of the constitution:

§ 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

§ 18. The legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changing of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impanneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson river below Waterford, and on the East river, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the state.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or, in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained, the general term of the supreme court in the district in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners, who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners.

§ 19. The legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the state, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

§ 20. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

§ 21. On the final passage, in either house of the legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the state, the question shall be taken for yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall in all such cases be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

§ 22. There shall be in the several counties, except in cities whose boundaries are the same as those of the county, a board of supervisors, to be composed of such members and elected in such a manner, and for such period, as is or may be provided by law. In any such cities the duties and powers of a board of supervisors may be devolved upon the common council or board of aldermen thereof.

Section seventeen of said article is hereby made section twenty-three of the proposed amendment, and is amended so as to read as follows:

§ 23. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time deem expedient.

§ 24. The legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

§ 25. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK, In Senate, May 29, 1873.—The foregoing resolutions were duly passed.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article five of the constitution.

Resolved, (If the assembly concur.) That article five of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

§1. The comptroller and secretary of state shall be chosen at the same general election, and for the same term as the governor. The persons holding the offices at the time when this section shall take effect shall continue to hold the same until the first day of January next succeeding the first election of comptroller and secretary of state, pursuant to the provisions hereof, and shall each receive a salary to be fixed by law for such time as they may hold such offices beyond the term for which they shall have been elected

§ 2. The attorney-general and state engineer and surveyor shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold their offices until the end of the term of the governor by whom they shall be nominated, and until their successors are appointed. No person shall be appointed state engineer and surveyor who is not a practical engineer.

§ 3. A superintendent of state prisons shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and hold his office for five years, unless sooner removed; he shall give security in such amount, and with such sureties, as shall be required by law for the faithful discharge of his duties; he shall have the superintendence, management and control of the state prisons, subject to such laws as now exist or may hereafter be enacted; he shall appoint the agents, wardens, physicians and chaplains of the prisons. The agent and warden of each prison shall appoint all other officers of such prison, except the clerk, subject to the approval of the same by the superintendent. The comptroller shall appoint the clerks of the prisons. The superintendent shall have all the powers and perform all the duties not inconsistent herewith, which have heretofore been had and performed by the inspectors of state prisons; and from and after the time when such superintendent of state prisons shall have been appointed and qualified, the office of inspector of state prisons shall be and is hereby abolished. The governor may remove the superintendent for cause at any time, giving to him a copy of the charges against him, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense

§ 4. The treasurer shall be chosen by the senate and assembly in joint ballot, and hold his office for three years, and until his successor shall be chosen and qualified. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give such security as may be required by law. He may be suspended from office by the governor during the recess of the legislature, and until thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the legislature, whenever it shall appear to him that such treasurer, has, in any particular, violated his duty. The governor shall appoint a competent person to discharge the duties of the office during such suspension of the treasurer.

§ 5. The lieutenant governor, comptroller, secretary of state, attorney-general, treasurer and state engineer and surveyor shall be the commissioners of the land office. The office of the commissioner of the canal fund is abolished, and all the powers and duties heretofore had and performed by the commissioners of the canal fund shall hereafter be had or performed by the comptroller. The canal board shall consist of the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor, and superintendent of public works.

§ 6. A superintendent of public works shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and to hold his office until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was nominated and until his successor is appointed. He shall receive for his services a compensation to be fixed by law. He shall be required by law to give security for the faithful execution of his office, before entering upon the duties thereof. He shall be charged with the execution of all laws relating to the repair and navigation of the canals; and also of those relating to the construction and improvement of the canals, except so far as the execution of the laws relating to such construction or improvement shall be confided to the state engineer and surveyor. Subject to the control of the legislature, he shall make the rules and regulations for the navigation or use of the canals. He may be suspended or removed from office by the governor, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require; but in case of removal of such superintendent of public works from office, the governor shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cause of such removal, and shall report such removal and the cause thereof, to the legislature at its next session.

§ 7. The superintendent of public works shall appoint not more than three assistant superintendents, whose duties shall be prescribed by him, subject to modification by the legislature, and who shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law. They shall hold their office for three years, subject to suspension or removal by the superintendent of public works, whenever in his judgment the public interest shall so require. Any vacancy in the office of any such assistant superintendent shall be filled, for the remainder of the term for which he was appointed, by the superintendent of public works; but in case of the suspension or removal of any such assistant superintendent by him he shall at once report to the governor, in writing, the cause of such removal. All other persons employed in the care and management of the canals, except collectors of tolls, and those in the department of the state engineer and surveyor, shall be appointed by the superintendent of public works, and be subject to suspension or removal by him.

§ 8. The office of canal commissioner is abolished from and after the appointment and qualification of the superintendent of public works, until which time the canal commissioners shall continue to discharge their duties as now provided by law. The superintendent of public works shall perform all the duties of the canal commissioners, and board of canal commissioners, as now declared by law, until otherwise provided by the legislature.

§ 9. The governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall have power to fill vacancies, in the offices in this article named except as herein otherwise provided; or, if the senate be not in session, he may grant commissions, which shall expire at the end of the next succeeding session of the senate.

§ 10. The attorney-general, state engineer and surveyor and treasurer, in office at the time this article shall take effect, shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

§ 11. The powers and duties of the respective boards, and of the several officers in this article named, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be such as now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law.

§ 12. All offices for the weighing, gauging, measuring, culling or inspecting any merchandise, produce, manufacture or commodity whatever, are hereby abolished, and no such office shall hereafter be created by law; but nothing in this section contained shall abrogate any office created for the purpose of protecting the public health or the interest of the state in its property, revenue, tolls or purchases, or of supplying the people with correct standards of weights and measures, or shall prevent the creation of any office for such purposes hereafter.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS proposing amendments to article four of the constitution.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur), That sections one, two, four, eight and nine of article four of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor who shall hold his office for three years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section shall take effect, shall hold office during the term for which they were elected.

§ 2. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor or lieutenant-governor, except a citizen of the United States, of the age not less than thirty years, and who shall have been five years, next preceding his election, a resident of this state.

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature (or the senate only) on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to them as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty and service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 9. Every bill which shall have passed the senate and assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated, which shall enter the objections at large on the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that house, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases, the votes in both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislature unless approved by the governor within thirty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the governor contain several items of appropriations of money, he may object to one or more of such items, while approving of the other portion of the bill. In such case, he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects; and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect. If the legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the governor. All the provisions of this section, in relation to bills not approved by the governor, shall apply in cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

Resolved, (if the assembly concur). That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and that, in conformity to section one of article thirteen of the constitution, it be published for three months previous to the time of such election.
